

FAUBUS EYES NOMINATION FOR 6TH TIME

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—Arkansas Democrats vote today on whether to send Gov. Orval E. Faubus or a new face against Republican Winthrop Rockefeller in the gubernatorial election next November.

Faubus was expected to easily win nomination to a sixth straight term over three opponents in the state's quietest Democratic primary campaign in years.

Less than half of the state's 633,000 voters were expected to cast ballots. The polls opened at 8 a.m. and close at 6 p.m.

Faubus appeared on television just once and closed his formal campaign last Friday, five days after he opened it.

3 OPPONENTS

His opponents, Joe Hubbard of Russellville, R. D. Burrow of Walnut Ridge, and Odell Dorsey of North Little Rock all were making their first statewide political campaigns. Only Dorsey ran any semblance of a traditional race. He closed his campaign Monday night with a statewide telecast, his first.

The race for governor was the only statewide contest on the primary ballot.

Interest in the governor's race was at an all-time low in a state which traditionally has elected its chief executive in the Democratic primary. Only once since Reconstruction have the Republicans produced more than token opposition for the Democratic nominee—in 1954 when Faubus, seeking his first term, defeated Mayor Pratt Remmel of Little Rock.

SCARED SOME

The threat posed by Winthrop Rockefeller, brother of Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, switched the emphasis this year.

Political observers believed the prospects of an expensive primary campaign against Faubus for the right to make an expensive campaign against Rockefeller scared off Democrats who might have seriously challenged Faubus.

MRS. JFK IS 35 YEARS OLD

NEWPORT, R.I. (AP)—Mrs. John F. Kennedy today observes her first birthday since her husband was assassinated in Dallas last Nov. 22. The former first lady is 35.

Mrs. Kennedy planned to drive to Newport today from Hyannis Port, Mass., on Cape Cod where she has been since early summer.

The Kennedy children, Caroline 6, and John Jr., 4, were brought to Newport from Hyannis Port by automobile Monday.

Mrs. Kennedy plans to remain at the 75-acre Hammersmith Farm estate of her stepfather and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh D. Auchincloss, until Aug. 5, when she is scheduled to leave for a trip to Europe.

Beyond the announcement that the former first lady would spend her birthday with the children and her mother, there was no word of family plans.

Mrs. Kennedy began a year of mourning after the assassination. Most of her time since then has been spent answering the thousands of messages that poured in and aiding the drive to raise $10 million for the Kennedy Memorial Library near Harvard University.

SEEK PISTOLS IN DEL. RIVER

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—City police prepared to send underwater television cameras into the Delaware River again today as the search continued for two pistols believed used in a double slaying at a Center City restaurant.

Frank Phelan, 26, charged with homicide in the slayings, showed police Monday how he disposed of two revolvers by throwing them into the river.

Police said Phelan told them earlier he got the guns from the husband of one of the victims.

A detective filled a brown paper bag with rocks and handed it to Phelan, who tossed it from a spot between two piers on the river. It sank in about 15 feet of water.

Police said the weapons were used in the June 19 slaying of Mrs. Judith Lopinson, 25, and Joseph Malito, 52, co-owner of Dante's Restaurant with Mrs. Lopinson's husband, Jack, 27. Lopinson is scheduled for arraignment Monday on a grand jury indictment of homicide.

PLEADS GUILTY

Charles E. Beasley, 60 Breckinridge St., pleaded guilty to a charge of disorderly conduct brought by Erlene M. Reinhardt, 131 W. High St., Monday afternoon before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder and was given until Friday to pay a $10 fine and costs.

Wedding

Wagner-Weaver

Miss Patricia Catherine Weaver, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph D. Weaver, 327 North St., McSherrystown, became the bride of Christian W. Wagner Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Christian W. Wagner Sr., 121 East Chestnut, Hanover, Saturday at 1 p.m. at Annunciation of the Blessed Virgin Mary Church, McSherrystown. The Rev. William Haviland performed the double-ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a street-length gown of nylon over taffeta, with a pleated scoop neckline and puff sleeves. The gown was accented with a cummerbund and a row of blue flowers at the waistline. She wore a shoulder-length veil of chiffon and net and carried a colonial bouquet of pink roses and white carnations.

Mrs. Barbara Redding, Littlestown, sister of the bridegroom, was matron of honor. She wore a yellow street-length chiffon over taffeta dress with a matching headpiece.

James Redding, the bridegroom's brother-in-law, was best man. A reception at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Myers was attended by about 55 guests.

The couple will reside at 115 Main St., McSherrystown.

Mrs. Wagner is a 1964 graduate of Delone Catholic High School. Her husband is a 1964 graduate of Eichelberger Senior High School and is employed by Hanover Made Furniture Co.

SURVEY SHOWS BARRY LEADS IN 13 STATES

(ADV for use at 11 a.m. EST)

BOSTON (AP)—The Christian Science Monitor says a survey of its correspondents shows Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater appears to lead in only 13 states.

In a copyrighted article, the Monitor said the Arizona senator appears to have an edge over President Lyndon B. Johnson, a Democrat, in four states in the West, five southern and border states, one in New England and three in the Midwest.

The 13 states have a total of 103 electoral votes, with a minimum of 270 needed to win in November.

LISTS STATES

The Monitor said its survey gives Goldwater the lead in Arizona, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, Maine, Alabama, Florida, North Carolina, Virginia, Kentucky, Indiana, Nebraska and Kansas.

It said the assessment "reflects the views of seasoned reporters together with quotes from professionals in both Republican and Democratic camps."

The Monitor also said: The assessments were made after the outbreak of racial violence in New York's Harlem but probably too soon to measure possible backlash effects among white voters.

In addition to the 13 states where Goldwater was given the edge there are 16 states "where his position appears to be strong to fairly strong."

MILITARY PAY BILL PASSED BY COMMITTEE

WASHINGTON (AP)—The House Armed Services Committee unanimously approved a bill today providing $207 million in pay raises for all members of the armed services except enlisted men with less than two years of service. It would be the second military pay raise in a year.

The exclusion of new enlisted men from the raise stirred the only controversy in the committee. Rep. Richard S. Schweiker, R-Pa., and others demanded that these men be included.

Schweiker, who said these men were living in poverty, proposed an amendment to give them a pay boost, too, but the committee killed it on a 21-9 vote.

UNANIMOUS ACTION

The committee's unanimous action in approving the whole bill virtually guaranteed most servicemen a pay raise by Sept. 1.

The bill is identical to one passed recently by the Senate, and Rep. Carl Vinson, D-Ga., chairman of the House Armed Services Committee, plans to bring it up on the floor next week.

The pay raise would reach servicemen on the first day of the month after the day that the President signs the bill. So, if President Johnson signs the bill in August, the pay checks start coming Sept. 1.

SECOND PAY INCREASE

This also would mean that most servicemen would receive their second pay increase in less than a year. Congress passed a $1.2-billion pay raise last year. It began Oct. 1.

The present bill would provide these increases:

1. A 2.5 per cent increase for all officers and enlisted men with more than two years of service.

2. An 8.5 per cent increase for all officers with less than two years of service.

DATE SET IN COURT RULING

NEW YORK (AP)—A federal court has ordered the Republican-controlled New York Legislature to pass a reapportionment measure by next April 1. The special three-judge court directed Monday that senators and assemblymen be elected Nov. 3 on the basis of present legislative districts. It ruled, however, that those elected in November can serve only one year instead of the normal two-year terms.

The unanimous decision set the first timetable for putting into effect the U.S. Supreme Court decision of June 15, which ordered that seats in the legislature be reapportioned to represent the population more fairly. The Supreme Court held that the state's apportionment formula was unconstitutional.

Girl, 16, Killed As Car Rolls Over

HARRISBURG (AP)—Four youngsters were injured, one fatally, Monday when their car ran off Legislative Route 22008, five miles east of Hummelstown and rolled over three times.

State police said Dianne Lynn Aucker, 16, of Hummelstown R. 2, died shortly after being admitted to Harrisburg Hospital.

Listed in satisfactory condition at Hershey Hospital were Anna Marie Zechman, 16, identified by police as driver of the car; her brother, Michael, 9, and Sally Ann Rhine, 18, all of Grantville R. 1.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Welfare Department reports that 112 countries have social security programs—a rise of nine since 1961.

In addition, the department's Social Security Administration said, many older countries have revised or added to their social security programs during that period.

The information is contained in a new edition of the department's "Social Security Programs Throughout the World."

WILKES-BARRE, Pa. (AP)—Samples of water from various sections of Harveys Lake will be taken today and sent to a state laboratory or analysis to determine whether they are contaminated.

The state Department of Health will make the tests trying to pinpoint sources of pollution which resulted over the weekend in the closing of Sandy Beach and Sandy Bottom, public bathing beaches at the lake, and which might be contaminating other sections.

To Conduct Rites For Mrs. George

Elder Clifford M. Bee will officiate at funeral services Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Seventh Day Adventist Church, near York Springs, for Mrs. Ernest E. George, 76, York Springs R. 2, who died Saturday in San Francisco where a daughter lives.

Burial will be made in the Sunnyside Cemetery at York Springs. Names of additional survivors were available today. These brothers and sisters are living: John Johnson, Akron, O.; Harold, Barberton, O.; Mrs. Marie Radcliff, Kent, O., and Mrs. Jenny Zehnder, Akron. There are 11 grandchildren.

Mrs. George was a native of Denmark, a daughter of the late Peter and Christine (Shalberg) Johnson.

SERVICE ON SUNDAY

A City Learns How A Riot Is Born In Frustration

By BERNARD GAVZER
ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP)—Helen Myricks was pleased with the way things were turning out. There was $60 collected for the playground from the sale of barbecue sandwiches, hot dogs and punch. Now the last record was spinning and the street dance would end. The people, especially the teen-agers, seemed to be enjoying themselves.

Then someone came to Gene Stevens, whose wife, Carrie, was one of the dance organizers with Mrs. Myricks, and said, "Some boy over there is causing a fuss."

Stevens had been keeping an eye on things. This was just a last minute kind of dance for the people on the block. Friday nights had been too full of hell raising in the Negro section as it was. It was wise to keep an eye open. Stevens told the boy to quiet down. So did some others. He wouldn't. So Stevens went to the Myricks porch where two white patrolmen, Anthony Cerretto and Roger Bacon, were standing.

"STARTED YELLING"
"We walked up to this guy," says Cerretto, "and we didn't even get a chance to ask him to leave. He started yelling and resisting and swinging. The next thing, we were all on the ground. Bacon and me and the guy. We put the cuffs on him."

"But this crowd that was dancing and enjoying itself turned on us. They yelled for us to take off the cuffs and let the guy go. They wedged between us. Two plainclothesmen who were at the end of Nassau Street on Joseph Avenue came from their car to help us. They were Dan Funk and Sal Arnone. Then everything let loose. Either Dan or Sal, I don't know which, got back and radioed for help."

It was 11:38 p.m., Friday, July 24, 1964, the minute, the hour, the day, the date, the year that thriving, comfortable Rochester learned how a riot is born. But there is no time for history in the birth of a riot.

RUMOR JUMPS RIVER
The communication system of a riot is rumor. Rumor moves faster than any electronic device. It jumps rivers and walls and buildings. It has a music: sirens. It has a color: red, for the blood on men's hands.

That call for help put through by Funk or Arnone brought cars with sirens and lights.

The riot that had just begun blossomed grotesquely. Rocks and stones and old brick from a large empty lot on Joseph Avenue near Nassau Street greeted the squads. Men and boys and women and girls jeered and swore at police. Wire trash baskets sailed from the crowd to land on the officers.

Several K-9 Corps teams arrived.

LOOTING BEGINS
The mob reached a new fury. Broken bottles littered the street and 50 police faced perhaps 500 persons. All of the action was centered at the intersection of Joseph Avenue and Nassau Street. The riot was 27 minutes old.

The looting began. Two hours passed. Time enough for the word to have spread like a typhus. A crowd of whites blossomed between the New York Central station and the U.S. Post Office. On one side of the street were the whites; Negroes on the other. Fire trucks arrived. So did police from Brighton and Greece. The hoses stiffened with the pressure of water and the threat of a race riot was crushed.

DAWN ARRIVES
The dawn brought a scene of senseless, wanton destruction. What end did this serve? This is the question.

But a riot needs no end except to be what it is. And Negroes trying to explain it to themselves as well as others came to the same conclusion: that frustration and bitterness are reason for violence.

Anyone who tried to impose reason quickly learned this. After two nights, there scarcely was a street in any of the Negro areas that did not show scars of violence.

HELICOPTER CRASHES
On Sunday afternoon, there came a spectacle so sickening that it was felt that this might sober men and bring sense to them. A helicopter used to observe riot areas hit a Negro dwelling, plunged to the sidewalk, exploded and set the

Two Are Slightly Hurt In Accident
Two persons sustained minor injuries in a three-car accident in Hanover Friday at 7:40 p.m., Hanover police reported.

Police said Louis E. Chamberlain, 30, Gettysburg R. 5, operator of one of the cars, and Mrs. Margaret M. Grizzel, 47, Hanover, both suffered bruised left arms.

Mrs. Grizzel was a passenger in a car operated by her son, Ralph T. Grizzel, 18, of the same address. Police said the other car was operated by Michael P. Livelberger, 17, of 429 South St., McSherrystown.

building afire. The pilot was killed and so were two persons in the house.
But Sunday night brought no respite.
The riot finally did come to its tired end, spent by the energy of its own fury, and the plain fact that there was nothing to win, either at the beginning or the end.

FAMILY ENDS 4-YEAR STAY IN EUROPE

Mr. and Mrs. Linn Kepner and children, Debra, Jeffrey and Philip, have arrived at the home of Mrs. Kepner's father, Walter H. Fissel, R. 1, after residing for the last four years in Europe.

While in Germany Mrs. Kepner was active in the Protestant Women of the Chapel. This organization consists of approximately 7,000 American wives in Europe, Asia and Africa.

Mrs. Kepner held local chapel and district offices in the PWOC which includes in its projects birthday parties at the service clubs for soldiers, pot luck suppers at the chapels for these men, visiting old folks' homes and orphanages, collecting clothing for nearby refugee camps, and monthly visits to these camps as well as staging parties for the children there.

Mrs. Kepner was an active Girl Scout leader for three years and a member of the Frankfurt Neighborhood service team.
Her husband, son of Lawrence Kepner, Emmitsburg, is employed by the Department of Defense, and while residing at Frankfurt traveled to other offices in England, Scotland, Italy, Morocco, Crete, Ethiopia, Greece, Iran, Turkey and Pakistan.

The entire Kepner family visited West Berlin, tulip gardens in Holland, Belgium's world fairgrounds, Paris, Venice, Verona, Italy, Switzerland and Austria.

After September 1 the Kepners will move into their home at Glen Burnie, Md., and Mr. Kepner will return to his office at Ft. Meade, Md.

OFFICERS ARE INSTALLED
Officers of the Central District Amvets Auxiliary, were installed at a meeting on the picnic grounds of the Fairfield Amvets on Sunday.

Marion Beachley, senior vice president, presided. Ella Mae Denlinger, past state president of the auxiliary, was the installing officer.

The following officers were installed: President, Nancy McCann; senior vice president, Ella Mae Denlinger; junior vice president, Marion Beachley; treasurer, Caroline Siple; secretary, Viola Martin; chaplain, Sonja Cool, public relations officer and historian, Gloria Millett; and sergeant at arms, Etta Scott.

A gift donated by Columbia Post No. 153 was won by Hettie Shwalter, Chambersburg. It was voted to donate $11 to the Central District Auxiliary treasury.

The date of the next Central District meeting was set for October 4 at Columbia Post No. 153.

Auxiliaries represented at the installation were Fairfield 172, Columbia 153, Ephrata 136, Harrisburg 10, and Lancaster 19. Guests were also present from Chambersburg.

BOARD TO HIRE NEGRO TEACHER
CONNELLSVILLE, Pa. (AP)—The Connelville Joint School Board voted unanimously Monday night to hire Mrs. James S. McPherson, a Negro school teacher who two years ago charged the board with discrimination.

The board set her salary at $5,000 a year and said she will be assigned to specific duties by the supervising principal.

Just last week the State Human Relations Commission conducted another hearing into the case. It was decided to continue the hearing indefinitely after the school board announced it would reconsider her application.

In 1962 Mrs. McPherson applied to the school board for a position and was turned down. She appealed to the State Human Relations Commission, charging that she was being discriminated against because of her race.

"THOUGHTS GROWING OLD"

As the years go rushing by me . . . and I'm fast becoming old . . . more and more my thoughts embrace . . . that which has long been told . . . I find myself drifting . . . back into yesterday . . . listening for memories . . . and what they have to say . . . I hear my mother's tender song . . . my father's manly voice . . . and as I roam the used-to-be . . . my heart seems to rejoice . . . it's wondrous to recapture . . . those care-free blissful days . . . for a fleeting moment . . . they set my hopes ablaze . . . but reverie is short-lived . . . the present is at hand . . . so I seek heavenly guidance . . . to help me understand . . . God tells me that I must prepare . . . for what is soon to be . . . the grand finale looms in view . . . and then eternity.

MISS GASTON IS MARRIED ON SATURDAY

Miss Evelyn Valerie Gaston, daughter of Mrs. Katherine D. Gaston, R. 4, became the bride of Ralph Edward Allison, Mt. View, Wyo., son of Mr. and Mrs. W. LeRoy Allison, Tarentum R. 4, Pa. at her home Saturday afternoon at 2:15 o'clock. The Rev.

MRS. ALLISON

Robert MacAskill performed the double-ring service.

The decorations were palms and ferns arranged around the flagstone and brick arport. Ted Gilbert sang "O Perfect Love," "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Given in marriage by her uncle, Dale Deardorff, the bride wore white organza over white taffeta with lace and long sleeves, street-length, with lace panels on the back of the skirt. She carried a cascade of orchids over a white Bible.

ATTENDED BY SISTER
The maid of honor, Miss Sandy Gaston, sister of the bride, wore a street-length dress of pink organza over pink taffeta, with a cherry pink cummerbund. She carried a colonial bouquet of pink and white carnations and rosebuds.

The bridal attendant was Mrs. Arthur Oplinger, Coudersport, Pa., who wore a dress similar to that of the maid of honor and carried a similar bouquet.

Arthur Oplinger was best man and Charles Allison, Franklin, Va., was the usher.

TO LIVE IN GEORGIA
The bride's mother wore a dress of pink and white flowered polished cotton with a corsage of pink carnations and rosebuds. The groom's mother wore a rose crepe dress with a similar corsage.

Following a reception, the couple left for a wedding trip to Atlantic City. Upon their return they will reside in Augusta, Ga., where the groom is stationed as instructor in radio at Fort Gooch.

The bride graduated from Gettysburg High School and Pennsylvania State University and is a student now in physical therapy at the University of Pennsylvania. She will do 10 weeks of clinical affiliation in Augusta. The groom graduated from Deer Creek High School, Pennsylvania State University and Forestry School, National Forest Service.

HOLD RECEPTION
John C. Umbel, Emmitsburg, was best man. Ushers were Frederick V. Knox, Baltimore, and Harry M. Hobbs, Emmitsburg. Altar boys were Thomas Crandell and Michael Baltzell.

Miss Susan Blatzell, Thurmont, was flower girl and wore a pink nylon dress trimmed in satin with a lace jacket. She carried a colonial bouquet of white carnations.

The bride's mother wore a beige sheath dress with pink accessories and pink rosebud corsage. The groom's mother wore a pink and white dress with white accessories and an orchid corsage.

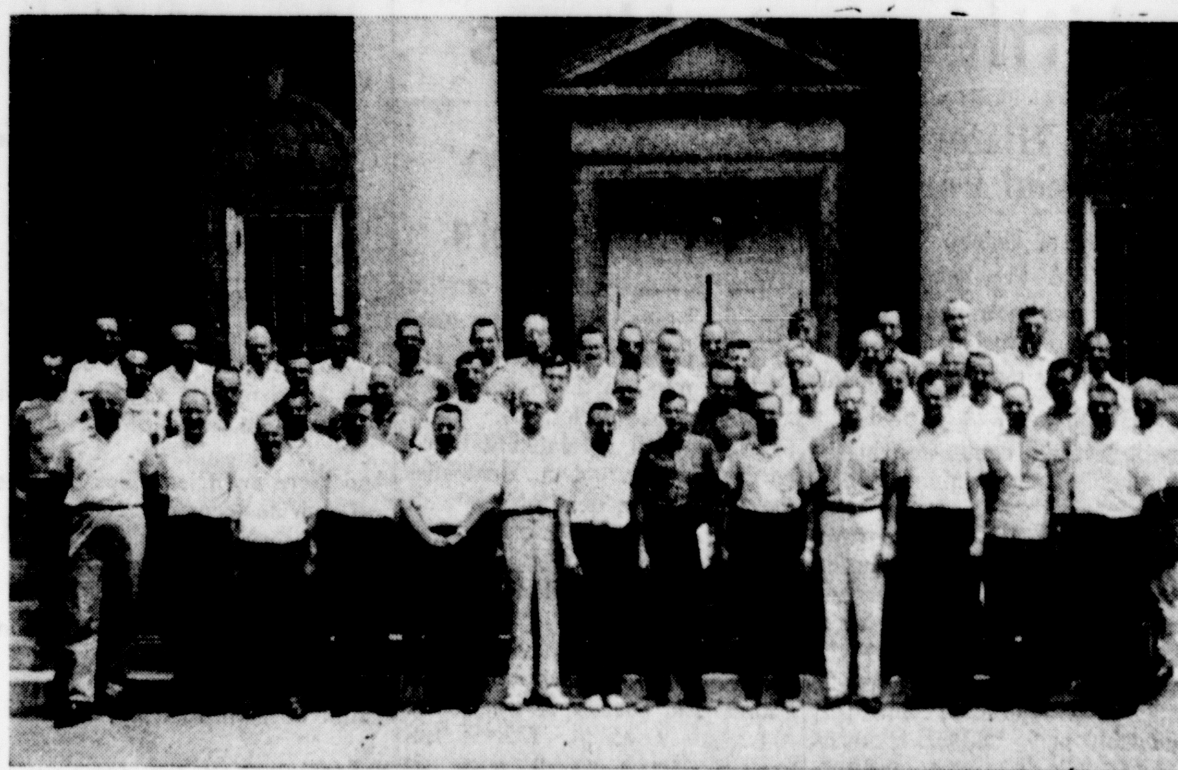

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Cozy Restaurant, Thurmont. For the wedding trip to the Eastern Shore the bride wore a green and white two-piece dress. Upon their return they will reside in Emmitsburg.

The bride is a graduate of St. Joseph's High School, Emmitsburg and the Waynesboro Business School. She is presently employed at Moore Business Forms, Thurmont.

The groom is a graduate of St. Francis Preparatory School and is now a senior at Mt. St. Mary's College, Emmitsburg.

Out-of-town guests were present from Ohio, New Jersey, Connecticut, Pennsylvania and Baltimore.

Mrs. Mary Myers presided at the organ and accompanied the soloist, Edward Fitzgerald, Thurmont.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a white satin brocade gown, fashioned on princess lines, with a short train. Her veil of tulle net fell from a matching brocade headpiece. She carried a bouquet of white roses, with a liftout corsage.

Miss Jo Anne Smith, New Windsor, Md., was maid of honor. She wore a blue peau de soie street-length dress with a matching headpiece and carried a colonial bouquet of blue and white carnations.

Mrs. Constance Baker Motley of New York, attorney for the Savannah Negroes who sought the injunction, described the order as unprecedented.

"I don't recall any similar decision. This could set an important precedent," she said.

The group which sought the injunction was led by W. W. Law, a Savannah official of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

MARKET RETREATS
NEW YORK (AP)—The stock market continued a slow retreat as trading dragged early this afternoon.

Although there was some steadying among recent losers, the general market picture was drab and unexciting.

Wall Streeters saw the list as going through another of its periods of slackness which usually follow a strong upsurge.

The trend was lower among rails, farm implements, motors, rubbers, utilities, airlines and chemicals.

HOPE FADING FOR TRAPPED MEN IN MINE

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH
CHAMPAGNOLE, France (AP)—Hope began to fade today for 14 men entombed for almost 24 hours in a limestone mine in the Jura Mountains of eastern France.

A drill pipe sunk through 128 feet of mud and rock broke through into an intact part of the mine. Rescuers lowered a highly sensitive listening device down the 6-inch tube but heard only the sound of dripping water and falling stones.

Officials said the absence of human sounds was "very disturbing." They said the men would have come to the point where the pipe pierced the mine roof if they were alive and well.

TRAPPED 12 HOURS

One official said it was possible that the area of the mine under the drill pipe was cut off from where the men were sheltered. But in that case the rescuers face new and formidable difficulties when they break through into the mine.

The drillers had worked through the night at one spot without making a breakthrough. Then they moved the rig several yards up the hill and started again.

The men had been entombed within the 30-mile labyrinth more than 12 hours when sensitive special equipment, flown in by helicopter, caught what seemed to be faint tapping.

OPEN RETREAT TO NEGROES

ATLANTA (AP)—A federal district judge, in an opinion of possible far-reaching significance, has enjoined the state of Georgia from racial discrimination in the sale, lease or other disposal of property of state-owned Jekyll Island.

The injunction, issued Monday by Judge Frank A. Hooper, makes it possible for Negroes to lease homesites on the island, once a retreat for some of the nation's wealthiest families.

Ben W. Fortson Jr., chairman of the Jekyll Island Authority, said about 400 homesites are available now for lease.

The normal homesite lease is 40 years, Fortson said, with 10-year renewal periods after that. The court injunction does not cover those presently holding leases from the state, but only concerns future disposals of property.

WILL PRESENT OSBORNE DRAMA

John Osborne's drama, "Look Back in Anger," opens at the Gettysburg Summer Theater Wednesday.

The production brings to the stage the original embodiment of the "Angry Young Man" of the decade of the fifties. The main role is handled by Charles Plese, who portrays the character of Jimmy Porter, the young man who dominates the action of the play and who is the epitome of bitterness. Loved by two women, he finds nothing in the world which he himself can love and becomes bitter in his protest at the twisted world in which he lives.

Richard K. Olsen will assume the role of Cliff Lewis, Porter's sympathetic young friend, while Patricia Martell will portray Allison Porter, Jimmy's long suffering wife. In the role of Allison's father, Colonel Redfern, will be Emile O. Schmidt, director, who will again assume the role of an actor in this production. The other woman in Jimmy's life, the calculating and haughty Helena Charles, is Diane DuBois.

"Look Back in Anger" is perhaps the one work of Osborne which set the pattern for the movement which became known as the angry young men in England. The production will continue through Saturday at the Gettysburg Summer Theater. Curtain time is at 8:30 p.m.

Harness Racing Tax Increasing
HARRISBURG (AP)—State tax collections from harness racing are running more than $230,000 ahead of last year, the state Revenue Department reported today.

The tax collections thus far in 1964 total $2,728,736, compared with $2,494,535 a year ago.

The current revenue was obtained from a completed 50-day meeting by the Liberty Bell Racing Association, 25 days of racing by the William Penn Racing Association at the Liberty Bell Track, and 38 days of racing at the Meadows Race track in Washington County.

The state collected $97,433 last week at Meadows, raising the total there to $569,289—better than was netted over the same period in 1963.

Health, Business And Driver Education Depts. Covered In School Report
Health education, business education and driver education departments of the Gettysburg Senior High School are covered in today's section of the evaluation report by the Committee of 16 visiting educators who spent three days at the school in April. Commendations and recommendations for each department follow:

HEALTH EDUCATION
Commendations
The committee commends the school for:
The professional attitude of the health education teachers and their willingness to carry on a program under somewhat adverse conditions.
A well planned course of study with emphasis on current health problems.

Recommendations
The committee recommends that:
A health education room be included in projected building plans — to include storage space for all materials used for health instruction.
Instruction in health education be presented so as to be more meaningful to the students.

BUSINESS EDUCATION
Commendations
The committee commends the school for:
Possessing an experienced, well prepared, professional staff.
Providing opportunities for all students to take business subjects.
Providing opportunities for business students to take college preparatory subjects as well as the regular business program.
Providing attractive, serviceable facilities and equipment for the program of instruction in business.

Recommendations
The committee recommends that:
The business staff be increased to provide for additional offerings in basic business courses.
The shorthand classes explore the use of the audio laboratory for increased dictation practice at varying speeds.
The business department develop a program of studies designed to meet the needs of general clerical students.
The business department establish an advisory committee of area businessmen for the purpose of developing closer working relationships in the interests of both the school and the community.

Principal's Note: The teaching staff in the business department has been increased by one new faculty member for the 1964-65 school year. New offerings include clerical practice and retelling. This change has application to paragraphs one and three under recommendations.

DRIVER EDUCATION
Commendations
The committee commends the school for:
The competence of the driver education instructors.
The support of the administration for this department.

Recommendations
The committee recommends that:
Driver education courses be considered for offering during the summer.
Principal's note: Driver education courses are presently being offered during the summer. This class has been attended by high school students in the Gettysburg Senior High School for several years.

GOLDWATER TO OPEN PUSH FOR PARTY UNITY

By WALTER R. MEARS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Republican presidential nominee Barry Goldwater, seeking to strengthen the GOP ticket in the coming campaign, is launching a drive for top-to-bottom party unity.

The Arizona senator announced Monday night a series of talks with GOP congressional leaders, members of the House and Senate, governors and other party chieftains "in the interests of the campaign, of the interests of the candidates' campaigns and of party unity."

Goldwater confers Wednesday with the Senate-House Republican Leadership Conference to talk over legislation facing Congress and discuss campaign plans.

BREAKFAST MEETING

The senator said he and vice presidential nominee William E. Miller of New York are inviting all the Republican members of both branches to Capitol Hill breakfast meetings Aug. 6 and 7.

Shortly after those meetings, Goldwater said, he hopes to meet with Republican leaders, including former president Dwight D. Eisenhower and former vice president Richard M. Nixon.

"We would like to include all Republican governors," he said. This would include Gov. William W. Scranton of Pennsylvania and Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, Goldwater's chief rivals during the race for the nomination.

The senator said his campaign strategy "will rely very heavily upon television, radio and the printed word."

MAYOR WAGNER KING CONFER

By RICHARD F. WHALEN

NEW YORK (AP)—Dr. Martin Luther King Jr. conferred with Mayor Robert F. Wagner today about New York's racial situation, and Harlem leaders expressed anger that King did not consult them first.

King said after the 3½-hour meeting, which ended at 2 a.m., that he would meet with "summit leaders" in the riot-torn sections of New York City.

"Matters of national importance" were discussed by King and Wagner, said one of the mayor's aides.

Before leaving Atlanta Monday night, King had urged Negroes in New York to halt violence and lawlessness, warning that they could set back the civil rights movement.

Vote For Light Plant: The town council unanimously passed a motion at an adjourned meeting Tuesday evening providing for the town's building its own electric plant. Mr. Stock, chairman of the light committee, stated that if council should appropriate annually for five years the $3,000 which they are now spending for light, the new plant would be maintained and paid for. The present contract with the Gettysburg Light Co. expires next month.

Company Camps As Fire Burns: With the town's fire company away on a camping trip, the citizens of McSherrytown were suddenly called upon Thursday evening to take out their apparatus and protect their buildings against a serious blaze at the property of Dr. A. C. Rice. Shortly after five o'clock the stable of Dr. Rice was found to be on fire, flames shooting from the roof and endangering many other buildings in that vicinity. As soon as the alarm was sounded the men of the village turned out in force, for the regular company had gone on Wednesday and the town was practically without protection. Right willingly did they take up the task of getting out the apparatus and starting to fight the fire. Dr. Rice's horse was taken to a place of safety though it was somewhat scorched. So successfully did the earnest citizens of the village get to work with the hose lines which are fed by a gravity system that the Rice barn was the only building burned though it was surrounded on all sides by other wooden structures. The fire is supposed to have been caused by spontaneous combustion in several loads of hay which Dr. Rice had placed in the barn several days before.

Andrew J. Baker, Abbottstown, was stricken with vertigo one day last week and was unconscious for several hours but is now nearly recovered. Mr. Baker, who is 86 years old, was pitching hay and it is thought he over-exerted himself.

Suffragists Get Many Followers: That the recently organized suffragists of Adams County are highly gratified with the success with has attended their campaign during the past few weeks, is the statement made by those intimately connected with the work. The district superintendents have been quietly at work, distributing suffrage literature, talking to their friends and gradually working up a strong sentiment in favor of the movement. The entire county is covered by the organization effected at Gettysburg several weeks ago and with the continuation of the systematic work now in effect, it is believed that the voters will be ready, when the time comes, to declare themselves a large majority for equal suffrage.

Today's Talk

DON'T
On general principles, I abhor don'ts. But there are a few that come in very well in our daily lives. None of them is original with me. I merely list a few that helped me to face ahead in better part.

Don't wait. It does no good, anyway; besides it sours the one who makes it a practice. No one ever loved a wailer or a whiner.

Don't regret the past. It will never come back. It never has. Spilled milk is spilled. Either milk another pail to make up for that which is spilled — or hunt up another cow! It often takes a dozen failures to make one success.

Don't advertise your aches and pains. Most of us have them at times. They are the common heritage of mankind. But no one else likes to hear about them. Tell people about the things that make you happy.

Don't borrow money. Don't borrow trouble. By borrowing money you are almost sure to lose a friend — and your self-respect as well. By borrowing trouble you obligate yourself to pay it back — and who wants what one already has?

Don't finch under adversity. Keep your chin up. Look straight ahead. If for some reason you go down — get up again. Said the Prodigal Son: "I must arise and go to my father!" It took courage and the swallowing of a great deal of pride — but he did it — and brought joy to the father who awaited him.

Don't gamble. No one ever gets something for nothing. In the end the gambler always loses. His day of winning is short. Work alone ennobles.

Don't envy the other fellow. Every man and woman has something that no other human being has. Develop that one thing and make it outstanding. Don't give up! Keep going. Let nothing floor you. Life is not merely one fight — but a thousand, perhaps. Win as many as you can and take the losses like a grand sport. In your heart forever remain an undefeated champion!

Eddie Plank Is Whitewash King: Should Christy Mathewson of the Giants and Eddie Plank of the Athletics, face each other in another world's series contest next fall the spectators fortunate enough to witness this encounter would be seeing a battle between the greatest whitewash spillers in the National and American Leagues. Mathewson has for several years been the kalsomine king of the senior league but it was not until May 28 of this year that Plank's friends had a right to announce that the veteran left-hander had to his credit more shut-outs than any other finger in the junior organization. When the season started Ed Walsh of the White Sox possessed the honor now owned by Plank, of most frequently keeping his adversaries away from the scorers' station. Plank has denied his opponents runs in 59 consecutive games. Walsh is not in much danger of having any more associates in their tight little whitewash society for many years to come. Only three other American League pitchers — "Chief" Bender and Jack Coombs, of Philadelphia, and Joe Wood of Boston — have succeeded in keeping their opponents away from the plate in 25 or more games. Bender has shut out his rivals 33 times, Coombs 28 times and Wood 25 times.

Gather Historical Material For Book

A wealth of historical material has reached the hands of the historical program committee of the Littlestown Bicentennial, Inc., as a result of the recent appeals to the public, it was learned at a meeting of the committee in the Community Center Monday evening.

Each member has heard from various sources and the quantity of information is growing. Among the items received were several pictures, all of interest to the committee, so another appeal is made for additional pictures, preferably prior to 1920. Pictures of town folk, of early industry, such as buggy-making, of the first or last trolley car, the last passenger train, the old mill building on S. Queen St. and whatever else individuals feel would be interesting to their friends and neighbors in the bicentennial book which is being prepared.

Pictures of stores as they used to be, and their owners and similar material should be given to a member of the committee or brought to the next meeting on Monday, August 10, at 7:30 p.m., in the bicentennial meeting room.

FOE Auxiliary Is Host To District

The Ladies' Auxiliary to the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Littlestown Aerie No. 2226, was hostess to the FOE Auxiliaries of District 14 for a meeting on Sunday afternoon in the aerie home, W. King St. Representatives of Harrisburg, York, Gettysburg, Hanover and Littlestown were in attendance.

Mrs. Ruth Crouse, district leader, of Littlestown, presided until the election of Genevieve Tressler, Hanover, as leader. Grace Bryson, Hanover, was elected secretary-treasurer. Refreshments were served in charge of Mrs. Mabel Rittase, Mrs. Edna Olinger, Mrs. Anna Mallema and Mrs. Frances Parsons.

Forty Cubs Take Overnight Hike

Forty Cub Scouts of Pack No. 84 enjoyed their annual overnight hike at the Littlestown Fish and Game Farm, near town. The group hiked from the Community Center to the farm on Friday evening. There they played football and volleyball and had relay races. The boys slept in pup tents and had breakfast at the farm before hiking back to town on Saturday morning.

The Cubs were accompanied by Cubmaster Alvah Stonesifer, Assistant Reid Pittenturf, Committeemen Paul F. Boller Jr., Richard V. Emerson and Bernard J. Kuhn; Boy Scouts Larry Huld, Randall Stonesifer, Ronald Redding, Bruce Fitz and Gary Wolf. The next Pack activity will be a family picnic and field day on Saturday, August 16, 2 p.m., at McSherry Little League Field.

Charles Crouse Family Gathers

The 28th annual reunion of the descendants of the late Charles A. and Annie K. (Mott) Crouse was held on Sunday at Crouse's Pool, Littlestown R. 1. One hundred fifty-two persons, descendants and visitors, were present from Connecticut, Maryland, Lancaster, Columbia, Gettysburg, Hanover and Littlestown. The group had a basket lunch, swimming and refreshments during the social afternoon.

The business period was in charge of R. L. Crouse Jr., Littlestown. Mrs. Harold O. Sentz, Littlestown, was acting secretary and mistress of ceremonies. Kenneth Crouse, Taneytown, treasurer, reported. It was decided to hold the 1965 reunion at the same place.

Election of officers was held with these results: President, Mrs. Philip Pfeiffer, Bowie, Md.; vice president, Hank Repscha, Richmond, Va.; secretary, Mrs. John F. Feaser Jr., Littlestown R. 1; treasurer, Kenneth Crouse, Taneytown. Mrs. Clyde W. Crouse and Mrs. Harold Sentz were appointed co-chairmen of the 1965 program committee.

Plane Crash Takes Life Of Passenger

STROUDSBURG, Pa. (AP)—A private plane crashed and burned shortly after takeoff from the Mount Pocono Airport Monday night killing one man and injuring three other persons.

Dead was Francis J. Panzarello, of Wilkes-Barre. Airport officials said the plane was headed for the Wyoming Valley Airport at Forty-Fort. In serious condition at Monroe County General Hospital in East Stroudsburg was Mary Elizabeth Gallagher, 19, of Forty-Fort, daughter of James Gallagher, 46, pilot of the plane.

Gallagher and another passenger, Carl Roos, 58, of Wyoming Pa., were listed in satisfactory condition at the hospital. The crash occurred just off Route 611, about 15 miles north of here.

The teen-agers of the community are invited to attend a block party on Wednesday from 7:30 to 10:30 p.m. on the Super Thrift Market parking lot, N. Queen St. There will be dancing to recorded music and a local disk jockey will preside. Refreshments will be available. The party is being sponsored by the Junior Woman's Club of Littlestown.

A watermelon party will be featured at the meeting of the Ladies' Aid Society of St. Luke's Lutheran Church at 8 p.m. on Wednesday at the church. The hostesses will be Mrs. Junior T. Bittle and Mrs. Elwood Breighner. Final plans will be made for the annual public picnic to be held on August 8.

The family night meeting will be held in Bethel Assembly of God Church, along the Littlestown Fish and Game Rd., on Wednesday at 7:30 p.m.

Mrs. Thomas Vesterich and children, Jacqueline and Mark, Southfield, Mich., have been visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold S. Roberts, Maple Ave., and return home on Thursday. Dr. Vesterich returned to Southfield last week after being east with his family.

The Rev. William C. Karns, pastor of St. John's Lutheran Church, has announced the Sunday pulpit schedule as follows: August 2, 10:15 a.m., regular worship service; Aug. 9, the Rev. Dr. Ralph D. Heim, of the Gettysburg Theological Seminary, guest speaker; Aug. 16, no worship service; Aug. 23, the Rev. J. M. Myers, of the Gettysburg Seminary, guest; Aug. 30, Pastor Karns will occupy the pulpit.

In response to the communications from the Littlestown Junior Chamber of Commerce to Senator Hugh Scott and Congressman George A. Goodling regarding the chapter's opposition to the law banning Bible reading in school, letters have been received by the Jaycees assuring them that they will do everything possible in registering the chapter's views.

CLUB ON OUTING
Members of the Carroll Adams Riding Club and their families had an outing on Sunday at the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Roy M. Maitland, Porters Siding. A picnic lunch was served by the hosts to 54 persons. Swimming was enjoyed during the afternoon. Twelve riders from the club went on a trail ride in the Spring Grove area.

The club will have its next trail ride on Sunday, August 9, leaving at noon from the Sterner farm, near town. Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Sterner will be in charge.

AUSSIES HOLD NO TERROR FOR YANK TENNIS

SOUTH ORANGE, N.J. (AP)—Dennis Ralston says he's not afraid of the Australian Davis Cup tennis team—if they're around for the 1964 Challenge Round in September.

Tennis people are beginning to listen to Ralston, who celebrated his 22nd birthday Monday with a first-round victory in the Eastern Grass Courts Championships. The young Californian has swept through two straight major U.S. tournaments—upsetting Chuck McKinley each time in the final—and is top-seeded here. McKinley is not entered.

Ralston breezed past Butch Newman, McKinley's teammate at Trinity, Tex., College, 6-1, 6-2 in a 30-minute match Monday.

OTHERS SEED
Other seeded players in the Eastern Grass Courts advanced easily. Second-seeded Frank Froehling of Coral Gables, Fla., whipped Frank Lamothe of New Orleans, 6-3, 6-4; third-seeded Eugene Scott of St. James, N.Y., ousted Bill Scarlett of Cedar Grove, N.J., 6-1, 6-3, and fourth-seeded Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., topped D. R. Saberton of Britain, 6-0, 6-3.

The four top-seeded women—Billie Jean Moffitt of Long Beach, Calif.; Nancy Richey of Dallas; Mrs. Carol Caldwell Graebner of Beachwood, Ohio, and Mrs. Karen Hantze Susman of San Antonio—all drew byes into today's second round.

ZINNIAS
Somehow the zinnias seem to be
The rugged garden friends
Whose favor asks no flattery
Or on no whim depends.

One must be careful with the rose
And watch it day by day
If but the merest slight it knows
'Tis apt to droop away.

And there are friendships delicate
Requiring constant care
So sensitive to hurt, they wait
To find it everywhere.

Since at a nod they suffer pain
And at a word they weep
Their trust is difficult to gain
And difficult to keep.

But zinnias all the summer

Self pity seem to shun
And blossom every day anew
Until the year is done.

DIRECTOR OF FISH GROUP DISCHARGED

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Fish Commission is looking for a new executive director to succeed Albert M. Day, who was ousted in a surprise move Monday.

The commission, after holding its annual reorganization meeting behind closed doors, issued this terse announcement: "The Pennsylvania Fish Commission today declared the position of executive director vacant. Mr. Robert Bielo (Day's top assistant) will become acting executive director until further notice of the commission."

A spokesman in the governor's office expressed surprise at the move and said Gov. Scranton, vacationing in New York State, was unaware of the ouster.

"SHOCK TO ME"
Asked if he knew why he was being let go, Day replied: "I don't know why it happened. It came as quite a surprise and a shock to me."

Raymond M. Williams of East Bangor, elected president of the commission at the reorganization meeting, declined to say by what vote Day was ousted, but it was learned that at least two of the nine members opposed the ouster.

"We felt we wanted changes made," Williams said. "There were no specific reasons for the move. This was the commission's action only. It had nothing to do with politics or pressures from sportsmen."

Day, former director of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, said he had no indication that his job was in jeopardy prior to the reorganization meeting.

Williams said the commission would make a careful study before deciding on a permanent replacement for Day.

Wallace C. Dean, Meadville, who left the president's post upon Williams' election, had no comment to make other than that he had voted against firing Day.

Day, 67, was appointed to the $15,000-a-year post in 1960 during Dean's term as president.

When a fifty-ish woman wearing yellow slacks appeared as a witness in a divorce proceeding Monday, the judge refused to let her testify until she was more suitably attired.

Considine told the woman: "It is not my personal dignity you affront, but the dignity of the state of New Jersey."

DEFENDS LL AGAINST JAY CRITICISMS

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—A spokesman for Little League Baseball, Inc., Monday defended the organized program for youngsters against criticism by pitcher Joey Jay of the Cincinnati Reds.

"By his ill considered comments, Jay has not enhanced his own image as the first former Little Leaguer to go to the major leagues..." said Robert H. Stirrat, director of public relations.

An Associated Press story last Friday quoted Jay as saying he planned to discourage his son from participating in the Little League program. The story carried the byline of Ritter Collett, sports editor of the Dayton Journal Herald.

PUT UNDER PRESSURE
"I was amazed to find a couple of months ago they have what they call a Little League farm group in which my 7-year-old son, Stephan, could play," Jay was quoted in the story.

"He's been on a team and from what I have been able to observe, I'm going to discourage him from going on with it. That is far too young for organized training in something that is supposed to be fun."

Jay went on to say in the interview that he felt parental involvement was a stumbling block for a young boy playing in the Little Leagues.

"I think even the most fair-minded parents put pressure on their boys," Jay said. "I've seen a few mothers scold a boy for striking out or making an error. But even those who don't interfere find it difficult to conceal their disappointment when their kid has a bad game."

ISSUES DENIALS

Stirrat said there was no record at Little League headquarters here that Jay's son "is now or ever has been a member of a Little League farm team..."

"The parental situation to which he referred," Stirrat said, "does not take place in Little League. It is ironic that more than 200 youngsters in his home city of Middletown, Conn., participate in a highly successful and scrupulously conducted Little League farm team program that bears his name."

Elorde retained the title Monday via an unpopular 12th-round technical knockout over Japan's Teruo Kosaka that touched off a near-riot.

The Japan Boxing Commission completed an investigation of the fight today and presented Elorde with a certificate recognizing his victory. The commission refused to certify the decision Monday night.

STOPPED FIGHT
Filipino referee Jose Padilla stopped the fight at 1:45 of the 12th with Kosaka leading on points but groggy after a knockdown. The crowd of about 8,000 tossed seat cushions into the ring and threatened Elorde until Japanese police intervened and escorted him to his dressing room.

Padilla called a halt after Elorde floored Kosaka with a hard left for the mandatory eighth count and staggered the challenger again when he regained his feet. Kosaka was bleeding from a cut over his left eye.

"Kosaka was in bad shape and staggering around," the referee explained. "The cut over his eye was so bad I thought if I let him go on he might get blind. I could have stopped it in the 10th when the cut opened up, but I wanted to be fair."

Upper Adams Pony League

All home teams gained victories as the double elimination playoff tournament got underway Monday evening.

The Idaville Senators, regular season champs, whipped the York Springs Giants 10-4, icing the game with five runs in the bottom of the sixth on five hits.

Dave Griffie started on the mound for the Senators and pitched fine ball until the sixth when wildness forced him out in favor of Tom Smyers. Griffie was touched for eight hits and Smyers two. Donk Wagner tossed two innings for the Giants with Todd Tanager finishing up. Wagner yielded five hits and Tanager eight.

The hitting for the winners was evenly divided while Sam Baker and Phil Aldinger each smacked a trio for the Giants.

HALL OF FAME GAINS 7 NEW STARS OF GAME

COOPERSTOWN, N.Y. (AP)—The observance of the 25th anniversary of baseball's Hall of Fame offered a bizarre contrast.

Many of the all-time greats were on hand Monday to see seven new members, including Luke Appling, inducted into the hall.

Then, everyone adjourned to the relatively small Doubleday Field where an exhibition game matched the major leagues' two last-place teams, the New York Mets and the Washington Senators.

MESSAGE FROM LBJ

The Senators, who were 25 games behind in the American League pennant race, held off a ninth-inning rally for a 6-4 victory over the Mets, who trail by 28 games in the National League.

At the start of the formal ceremonies, Commissioner Ford Frick read a telegram from President Johnson. The President said:

"May I extend my congratulations on the 25th anniversary of the founding of the Baseball Hall of Fame. Baseball has made an important contribution to our American way of life and the Hall of Fame has made a laudable contribution in perpetuating the tradition of baseball and the memory of its outstanding players."

4 OF 7 PRESENT

Four of the hall's new members—Appling, Heinie Manush, Burleigh Grimes and Red Faber—were present.

The deceased — Miller Huggins, Tim Lincecum and John Montgomery Ward—were represented by members of their families.

Appling, now a coach with the Kansas City Athletics, played shortstop for 20 years with the White Sox, winning the batting title with a .388 average in 1936 and a .328 mark in 1943. He was elected to the hall last year by the Baseball Writers Association. The other six were chosen by the Old Timers Committee.

Upper Adams, Littlestown, New Oxford Win Openers In Little League Tourney

Upper Adams, Littlestown and New Oxford captured first round victories in the fourth annual Adams County Little League playoffs, Monday evening. Upper Adams dealt defending champion Gettysburg a 4-1 setback on the Benderville diamond while Littlestown downed Fairfield 12-6 on the winner's field and host team New Oxford came from behind to defeat McSherrystown 5-3.

Wednesday's second round games will send Littlestown against New Oxford on the New Oxford diamond and McSherrystown will journey to Fairfield. Gettysburg and Upper Adams drew byes on the second round. The games on Wednesday will start at 6 p.m.

GETTYSBURG-UPPER ADAMS
The brilliant pitching and hitting of Rick Byers was one of nine reasons why the Upper Adams team upset the defending champion Gettysburg squad on the winner's diamond. Byers went the distance on the hill fanning 10 batters, walking four and allowing but three scattered hits. He had a fine zipping fast ball and excellent control. At the plate he turned in a perfect three for three, scoring one run and driving in another.

Both teams were held to a scoreless one-hit stalemate during the first three frames. During that time, Gettysburg managed to load the bases but to no avail. Finally in the bottom of the fourth, Upper Adams broke loose for three runs. With one out, Byers beat out an infield single and Steve Guise followed with a long opposite field double to right driving in Byers. Steve Gorman then got on via a fielder's choice which found all hands safe and later Gorman went to second. Greg Weaver then poked a solid triple up the middle clearing the bases.

Upper Adams added another score in the fifth when Doug Lady beat out an infield hit was sacrificed to second, continued to third on a groundout and scored on Byers' single to left. Gettysburg tallied its lone run in the top of the sixth. With two outs, Lee McCans was hit by a pitched ball and Curt Musselman was sent in as a runner. Sam Waddell's long double to right-center drove Musselman around to third and an error on the catcher permitted him to score.

Carl Swinn's single in the first inning, another base knock by pinch-hitter Jim Flynn in the fifth and Waddell's blast were the only three hits given up by Byers. Dave James started on the hill for Gettysburg, but needed help from McCans in the fifth. Gettysburg hurlers did not record a strikeout and James is charged with the loss.

McSherrystown—New Oxford

New Oxford overcame a three-run deficit in the first inning and went on to top McSherrystown 5-3. New Oxford tallied two runs in the second inning when Jack Greenholt got things started with a long home run with the bases empty. Danny Sharrer singled to left, stole second and continued home when he attempted to steal third and the third baseman missed the ball.

The eventual game winning scores came in the bottom of the third. McSherrystown committed seven of its eight errors in this frame and all of the miscues led to scores. The only base hit of the inning was Greenholt's double, but all of the runs had already crossed the plate when the extra base blow was recorded.

McSherrystown looked as if it might have things well under control from the very beginning. Don Eckenrode got on via an error in the first frame and Mike Timmins followed with a fielder's choice. Jack Lawrence then blasted his three-run homer over the right field fence.

New Oxford's defense buckled down the remainder of the contest and received a big boost with three snappy double plays. Sharrer and Greenholt led the winner's attack with a pair of safeties each while winning hurler Steve Walker allowed but four scattered hits. Don Keffer went the distance for the losers.

FAIRFIELD-LITTLESTOWN
A five-run uprising in the bottom of the fourth gave Littlestown a come-from-behind 12-6 win over Fairfield despite the outstanding performance of three Fairfield players.

Fairfield scored twice in the first but Littlestown came back with four runs on four hits in the bottom of the initial frame. Fairfield then went on to score two more runs in the second and took 3-4 lead in the fourth when Jack Deardoff clouted a tremendous home run to deep left.

Littlestown then went to work and put together doubles by Barry Sentz and Dan Brown, a

Williams to be operated upon today
BOSTON (AP)—Ted Williams—last of the 400 hitters and first on the player casualty lists—will undergo surgery at New England Baptist Hospital today.

The retired Boston Red Sox slugger was told Monday he had to have an operation to relieve pressure on a nerve caused by a ruptured disc.

Williams has been a patient at the hospital since July 12 and in traction much of the time.

The spinal problem is not new for the six-time former American League batting champion with 521 lifetime home runs. He has previously been hospitalized and in traction although the fact was not generally known.

The surgeon, who asked his name not be used, said the man who is a virtual certainty for the Hall of Fame first complained of a leg pain.

Williams is believed to have brought on the latest flare-up while playing golf. Ted is listed as a Red Sox executive assistant.

Williams hit for a .406 average in 1941, then came back at the age of 39 to bat .388 in 1957. His feats were the more amazing in view of the fact he missed the equivalent of five full seasons during his big league career.

In early 1953 Williams survived a crash landing he made with his burning, bullet-riddled jet fighter in Korea. A few months later medics sent him home with ear and nose ailments.

His ailment-plagued playing days started in July 1939 when he suffered an appendicitis attack but put off an operation.

BEARS WILL HONOR DEAD TEAMMATES

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

Associated Press Sports Writer
RENNSELAER, Ind. (AP)—The Chicago Bears, defending National Football League champions, have dedicated the 1964 season to teammates Willie Galimore and John (Bo) Farrington, who were killed in an automobile accident Sunday night.

Owner-coach George Halas suggested to his squad in training at St. Joseph's College this would be the greatest honor which could be bestowed upon them. The players pledged to carry it through.

Galimore, a halfback and one of the most feared runners in the league, and Farrington, a pass-catching end, were fatally injured when thrown from their skidding small car on an unmarked sharp turn on a country road two miles west of camp.

FUNERALS TODAY

Funeral services were to be held this morning with all the Bears and coaches in attendance, as well as Galimore's widow, Audrey, who arrived from their home in Tallahassee, Fla.

She has three children, Ronnie 7, Fawngreta 5, and Marlon 4.

Farrington's widow, Vivian, was in such a state of shock in Houston that she could not travel. They were married last March.

The bodies will be sent to their home cities for burial.

IN DAZE MONDAY

The Bears were so stunned by the tragedy that all seemed in a daze Monday. A light workout was held in the afternoon with the players going through the motions like robots.

The arrow-pointing sign reading "curve" had been knocked down on the L-shaped turn of the asphalt strip called Bunkum Road, where the accident occurred.

It had been placed against a wire fence at the side of the road, which cuts through cornfields, and could not be seen by an approaching car.

"The sign had been down two weeks," said Mrs. Alan Fleming, whose farm home is at the curve.

Monday afternoon it was set up again.

Elorde To Fight Jap In December

TOKYO (AP)—Flash Elorde, the world junior lightweight champion from the Philippines, and Teruo Kosaka of Japan will be rematched for another title bout in December.

The Japan Boxing Commission said today that the two fighters, whose bout Monday ended in a near riot, will fight again "for the sake of Japanese-Philippine friendship."

Elorde, who calls Japan his second home, retained the title Monday via an unpopular 12th-round technical knockout over Kosaka that touched off the near-riot.

Big Little Baseball League

The American Legion, regular season champ, won the opening game of the annual post-season playoffs by lacing the third-place Eagles 11-4 Monday evening.

Mike Herring turned in a one-man performance for the Legion as he pitched and batted his team to victory. He smashed three home runs, two with two on each time and another with one on, for a total of eight rbi's. He tossed a six-hitter, fanning 10 and walking four.

Mike Varian hurried for the Eagles and gave up 11 safeties, seven walks and struck out 10.

Kevin Hetrick poked a double and single to lead the Eagles.

Tonight second-place Kiwanis will meet the fourth-place Elks. The winner of tonight's contest will meet the American Legion Thursday evening for the playoff title.

CLAY, LISTON REMATCH FOR BOUT IN FALL

By CARL C. CRAFT

Associated Press Writer
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Missus the ballyhoo that usually attends such functions, heavy-weight boxing champion Cassius Clay has signed for a rematch this fall with Sonny Liston—the man he dethroned last February.

Although the date and time have not been decided, the 22-year-old champ modestly predicts: "I'm going to make this the greatest fight in history. I have a great many surprises for the next fight—surprises in my prediction, on my strategy and on some trainers I'm bringing in."

ALL HUSH, HUSH

The Louisville Lip, who earned a reputation for a flare for publicity before he won the title Feb. 25 at Miami, Fla., shunned the usual signing promotion. It was hush-hush from the time he signed the contract until the agreement papers were taken to Philadelphia, where Liston signed Monday night.

Bill Faversham, Clay's manager, said the target date for the fight is Monday, Sept. 28, but that the boxers have agreed only to a meeting sometime between Sept. 15 and Oct. 31.

Clay said he would like to fight in Louisville, but that Las Vegas and Baltimore also are in the running.

CLAY WEIGHS 226

Clay, a bit hefty at 226 pounds, flew to Louisville from his Miami training site for the signing. He said he may do some of his training in Egypt or Ghana—among the places he visited during a recent world tour.

A member of the Black Muslim sect, Clay signed the contract: "Muhammad Ali, AKA (Also Known As) Cassius M. Clay Jr."

The contract calls for both fighters to get 30 per cent of the gross receipts. Clay received 22½ per cent and Liston 37½ per cent in the February match. The fight will be put on by Intercontinental Promotions, Inc., which promoted the first match between the two. Liston had stock in Intercontinental but said he has disposed of it.

It will be Liston's first return to the ring since he lost the title by failing to answer the bell for the start of the seventh round in Miami. Liston knocked out Floyd Patterson in one round for the title and then repeated his first-round victory over Patterson in the first defense.

Four Local Lads In Jr. Tourney

Bobby Britcher has advanced to today's semifinals in the first flight play of the Harrisburg District junior country club links tournament being held at the Carlisle Country Club.

Britcher defeated Ken Caffrey, Carlisle, Monday 4 and 3. This morning he was scheduled to oppose Jeff Gribb, West Shore.

Bo Davies lost his first flight match to Dave Stover, Carlisle, 2 and 1.

In the championship flight Gary Hartman was defeated by Bob Markley, West Shore, 5 and 4.

Bob Kessel paced the second flight medal play Monday with a 90.

About 36 million Americans move each year.

YANKS BLANK ANGELS WITH TERRY ON HILL

By MURRAY CHASS

Associated Press Sports Writer
Suddenly they can't score against Ralph Terry.

Just a few weeks ago, they—the New York Yankees' opposition—couldn't keep from scoring, particularly in crucial situations.

Terry, a right-handed veteran, came through a personally crucial situation Monday night like Perry Mason sails through court cases.

REDS BOMB BRAVES

Making his first start since June 10 when he last won, Terry pitched his first shutout of the season as the Yankees stopped the Los Angeles Angels 3-0 and increased their American League lead to one game.

Cincinnati bombed Milwaukee 11-2 in the National League in the only other game played.

Terry, now 3-8, shut out the Angels on seven hits, not letting a runner get past second base. The performance sent his earned run average to 5.18, the first time it's been under 6.00 since mid-May.

Terry received all of the support he needed from Elston Howard and Roger Maris. Howard doubled home Tom Tresh and Joe Pepitone, who had singled in the second, Maris clouted his 15th homer in the third.

MALONEY BUSY

Fred Newman suffered his fourth setback against eight victories, giving up five hits in seven innings.

Jim Maloney pitched and helped bat the Reds to their victory under Coach Dick Sisler. Sisler took over for Manager Fred Hutchinson, who remained in Cincinnati for further hospital tests. Hutchinson is suffering from chest cancer.

Maloney scattered six hits, picking up his 10th triumph in 19 decisions. He singled in the first run of a five-run fifth inning and batted in another run with a eighth-inning sacrifice fly. He also singled in the fifth.

Denis Menke homered for the Braves while Deron Johnson and Marty Keough connected for Cincinnati. Keough's blast coming with one on.

Gettysburg Little League

Inasmuch as the Gettysburg All-Stars drew a bye in the Adams County playoffs, the league has rescheduled three games for this week. Tonight the Rotary and Glenn L. Bream will clash; Wednesday evening, the Moose and Gettysburg National Bank will meet, and on Thursday, the National Bank will tangle with the Lions. "Bud" Knox, manager of the Moose, announced that his team will hold a practice this evening at 5:45 at the recreation field.

Being able to reschedule the above games, the National Bank and Rotary will pull down the curtain on their respective seasons this week.

There are more than 300 crematoriums in the U.S.

NEW YORK (AP)—Professional golf's Big Three, which Jack Nicklaus a year ago threatened to convert into a Big Me, suddenly has developed into a Big We.

It's no longer just a trio at the top of the rich and rugged fairway game—it's a crowd.

The four major pro championships of 1964 now have been decided and of the so-called Big Three—Nicklaus, Arnold Palmer and Gary Player—only Palmer, the Masters winner, came away with one of the choice plums.

NEW FORCES FELT

Nicklaus, although the season's leading money collector, went 0-for-4 and failed to qualify for the $100,000 World Series of Golf, which he had won two years in a row. Player never seriously threatened in any of the four big championships.

New forces are making themselves felt in bigtime golf. New faces—one of them, at least, an old ace re-emerging from the shadows of obscurity—have moved in to challenge Nicklaus, Palmer and Player.

One of them is the lean, serious face of Ken Venturi, 33, who slew the ghosts of past failures and frustrations in winning the U.S. Open last month in Washington's stifling heat.

SCRAMBLE AT AKRON

Another is the puckish face of Champagne Tony Lema, 30, conqueror of cranky, old St. Andrews in his first try in the British Open and the most colorful figure the sport has produced since Walter Hagen.

A third is the fresh, baby face of Bobby Nichols, 28, who performed golfing miracles for our days in leading the PGA Championship through every round. He captured the imagination of the nation by the way he stood off the constant pressure of Palmer and Nicklaus.

As winners of major championships, Venturi, Lema and Nichols qualify to oppose Palmer, an old hand, in the scramble for the $50,000 first prize in the World Series of Akron, Sept. 12-13.

AWKWARD SITUATION

"This is very healthy for golf generally," said Jim Gaquin, tournament manager of the Professional Golfers Association, discussing the even distribution of the four big titles.

"The emergence of the so-called Big Three did a lot to stimulate the game and we can't knock it. But it created an awkward situation.

"Sponsors began to feel that their tournaments were a failure if they couldn't get Palmer, Nicklaus and Player—or at least one of them. The players on the tour became a little upset. They felt that there were any number of men capable of winning the big tournaments and that too much publicity was given the Big Three.

"This year's developments tend to prove that golf is not dominated by a small handful. We all think it's a good sign."

LEADING MONEY WINNER

Since 1958, Palmer has won four Masters, the Open and the British Open. Nicklaus, at 24, has joined such immortals as Gene Sarazen, Ben Hogan and Byron Nelson as the only players to win all three of America's major pro crowns—the Masters, Open and PGA. Player has won the Masters and PGA and become the only foreigner to lead

Pittsburgh Boy Wins At Hershey

HERSHEY, Pa. (AP) — Fifteen-year-old Jimmy Masserio—who never took a golf lesson—donned a new pair of shoes over the weekend and walked off with the Pennsylvania Publinks championship.

The tall, lean high school junior from Pittsburgh overcame a seven-stroke deficit in the last 36-hole round Saturday to become the youngest player ever to win the title. He fired a one-over par 72 and a 77 for a three-day total of 300 on the 6,055-yard Hershey Park course.

The victory came after Masserio's two closest competitors faltered on the final hole.

Bob Hirnisen of Sinking Spring, who needed a birdie to win and a par five to tie, bogeyed the 465-yard hole. Jack Ferrante of Philadelphia needed an eagle to win and a birdie to tie. He took a seven.

the money winning list.

Although shut out this year from a major title, Nicklaus, suffering a tendency to start with a bad round, has rallied to finish third in the Masters and second in both the British Open and PGA. He is currently the leading money winner with $90,864.76, followed by Palmer, with $80,693.37.

But golf fans are buzzing over a new Big Three—Venturi, Lema and Nichols. How good are they? Can they last?

Wednesday: Ken Venturi

James MARLOW Reports

By The Associated Press

WASHINGTON (AP)

Charles De Gaulle got stuck with an idea; now he's reworking it. The last thing he wants to be is ignored; but he's being ignored.

The French president Thursday proposed at his second news conference of 1964 the neutralization of all Southeast Asia, including Viet Nam. It was an old idea.

He had proposed it at his first news conference of 1964 last January. The United States brushed off the idea then. It's brushing it off now.

DIDN'T WORK

The trouble was that 10 years ago 14 nations at Geneva reached an agreement supposed to keep Southeast Asia peaceful. It's been anything but.

Washington's view was, and is, that Red China and the North Vietnamese broke the agreement. So why think a new agreement would be observed?

France had held Indochina as a colony since the 19th century and showed no signs of granting independence until some Indochinese got fed up.

WRECKED FRENCH

Some of them, Communist-led under Ho Chi Minh, fought the French 7½ years and finally wrecked them in 1953.

This was humiliation for the French who had to be bailed out in two world wars. Now under De Gaulle, they aspire to world leadership again.

The Geneva Agreement divided Viet Nam into North and South Viet Nam, with Ho Chi Minh still in charge in the north. The French pulled out.

The North Vietnamese decided to take over South Viet Nam, which needed help to survive. The United States stepped in and has been helping out since.

PEACE WOULDN'T LAST

It seems clear from this history that if there was a new agreement and the United States pulled out, the North Vietnamese wouldn't let peace last long.

This time—adding a new touch—De Gaulle wants the United States, France, Russia and Red China to guarantee the peace.

De Gaulle's proposals on Southeast Asia suggest he can't reconcile himself to the thought that France should, or must, keep its nose out of Asia permanently.

PART OF PATTERN

It is part of the pattern of his mind. He wouldn't accept a nuclear test or a treaty, insisting instead that France must build its own nuclear arsenal.

At the same time he wants a close tie-up with Germany. But this wouldn't be on an equal partnership basis if France had nuclear weapons and Germany didn't.

And if West Germany tried to build the Russians would go through the ceiling. And so would De Gaulle, probably.

The Frenchman seeks a kind of French-German alliance that would dominate their smaller neighbors. But German Chancellor Erhard wants no part of it.

He knows West Germany is too close to Russia for safety and wishes to have the protection of the United States.

De Gaulle wants that protection but apparently wishes he didn't.

GERHART WINS

NEWBERRYTOWN, Pa. (AP)

Bobby Gerhart of Lebanon won the 25-lap feature race for modified stock cars at Susquehanna Speedway Sunday night.

Gerhart took the lead on the first lap and won easily over Milford Wales of Fawn Grove, the runnerup. In third place was Dick Tobias of Lebanon. The winning time was 9:13.2.

THREE CHEERS

Ten Are Killed In Headon Crash

KINSTON, N.C. (AP)—Ten persons were killed early Sunday in the worst highway accident in North Carolina since 22 migrant farm laborers died in a two-truck collision near Fayetteville seven years ago.

Five white persons, returning from a dance, and five Negroes, four of them migrant farm workers from Alabama, died when two cars collided with such force engines of both were pushed back into the front seats. Two persons, one in each car, survived.

"Honest beer."

When Michael Piel came over from Germany in 1884, he had some pretty firm ideas about how beer ought to be made.

For one thing, he didn't think it was easy. Making his kind of beer was a job that required all a man's brains and no fooling around. He was, without a doubt, a hard man to work for.

But his men liked working for him. His pride was contagious and they caught it.

When Michael talked about the Brewery he talked about "honest men making good beer the way they believe it ought to be made."

He saw his beer as "honest beer."

Experiments Made At PSU To Increase Production Of Crops By Using Sewage

(Editor's note: Treated sewage is stimulating increased crop productivity in a unique experiment that has been going on for the last year at Pennsylvania State University. Here's a report on the project.)

By MIKE MOYLE

The Centre Daily Times
STATE COLLEGE, Pa. (AP) — Farmers, sportsmen and municipal officials all can take heart from the early results of a test at the Pennsylvania State University which involves using treated sewage to increase crop productivity.

A team of 15 researchers has undertaken the job in hopes of helping to solve two of man's most persistent problems — growing more and better crops and checking the steady increase in pollution of streams.

The quarter-million dollar project has been running for just over a year and the results to date have been sufficiently encouraging to prompt an increase from seven to 65 acres in the land being sprayed with the waste water.

IMPROVE GROWTH
Not only is the treated sewage being turned onto field crops but onto woodlands as well, with the aim of improving growth of both forest plants and wildlife. The treated sewage comes from the university's sewage treatment plant, which serves the sprawling campus of some 20,000 students plus an additional 2,500-3,000 customers in the borough of State College.

The project's sponsors foresee clear sailing for the unique experiment and have high hopes that some day they can use the entire output of the sewage plant for agricultural purposes.

The experiment already is showing strong indications that the sewage effluent has been a good fertilizer for crops. The research teams, carefully studying comparative growth, say plants receiving the treated sewage have outgrown those getting orthodox fertilization and natural rainfall. This has proved true of trees as well as field crops. The researchers have rigged a series of 40-foot high pipes in the wooded sections of the experimental tract which sprinkle simulated rainfall onto trees.

DETERGENTS RETAINED
The tests have also shown that the detergents and phosphorus present in the effluent are being retained in the upper layer of the soil where they can promote beneficial plant growth rather than causing lush vegetation in stream beds where it eats up oxygen needed by fish.

Keeping waste, even though treated, out of fresh water streams is bound to go a long way toward halting the disturbing increase in stream pollution, long decried by sportsmen's organizations and recreation leaders.

The Penn State scientists are not stopping at merely spraying the field and watching the crops grow. The 16 researchers who are guiding the experiment represent a wide range of interests, including geologists who are following the treated sewage to determine whether it is seeping through the soil and back into the very streams they're trying to protect; wildlife management experts who are charting the animal and fowl populations in the areas under experiment; sanitary engineers, foresters, and health officials.

The research team has been faced with one major problem: How to avoid losing valuable time during the winter months. Last year the test was not operated during the winter. This year it is hoped to use the liquid waste by turning it into snow and dumping it onto fields to await the spring thaw.

It is expected that the experiment will have to be carried on for another couple of years before sufficient facts can be accumulated to prove the idea worthwhile.

At any rate, the Penn State team feels certain that some day the idea, in some form, will be used to eradicate the problems now created by disposal of wastes.

Alleged Voting Fraud Is Checked
HARRISBURG (AP) — The State Justice Department is investigating charges of vote fraud in the April 28 primary in Lackawanna County.

Robert West, chief investigator, said Saturday the probe was the result of a suit filed in Commonwealth Court by Genevieve Blatt, state secretary of internal affairs.

Miss Blatt and Justice Michael A. Musmanno of the state Supreme Court are locked in a close race for the Democratic U.S. Senate nomination. Miss Blatt at present holds a 460-vote statewide lead over Musmanno, who carried Lackawanna County by some 17,000 votes.

TOURNEY TO OPEN
PHOENIXVILLE, Pa. (AP) — Miss Pennsylvania, Marilyn Cutlar March, will toss out the first ball at the opening of the Babe Ruth League of Pennsylvania Tournament here Wednesday. Play continues through Aug. 1.

3,000 Are Evacuated From Ford Pavilion

NEW YORK (AP) — A small fire, quickly extinguished, caused evacuation of from 2,500 to 3,000 persons Sunday from the Ford Pavilion at the World's Fair.

The pavilion was closed for three hours while workmen mopped up water from automatic sprinklers set off by the blaze. One of two rides which takes fairgoers past exhibits was kept closed for the day, because of fear that water-soaked plaster might fall.

The fairgoers in the building were evacuated in about four minutes, before the automatic sprinklers went on.

GOLDWATER'S NAME HURTS FUND RAISING

HARRISBURG (AP) — Frank C. P. McGinn, Pennsylvania Republican finance chairman, says he knows of many potential campaign contributors "who want to help the Republican party but who do not want to help Goldwater."

Arizona Sen. Barry Goldwater, the GOP presidential candidate, was opposed for the nomination by Pennsylvania Gov. William W. Scranton, who questioned many of the senator's conservative views.

SOME NOT RETURNING
"Goldwater is going to have to welcome the prodigal sons back into the party and even then apparently some aren't coming back," McGinn said Saturday.

He reported that his committee raised a record $600,000 in contributions prior to the Republican national convention—about a quarter of the total amount needed.

Republican State Chairman Craig Truax said, meanwhile, he expected Scranton to go "all-out" in his support of Goldwater. Scranton is scheduled to return Aug. 3 from a two-week vacation in the Adirondack Mountains of New York State.

URGE '68 RACE
Truax also announced that a meeting of Republican county chairmen would be held Aug. 7 to discuss the fall campaign in Pennsylvania. Another meeting by representatives of the various wings of the party probably would be held in the near future, he said.

"It is going to take the whole party to win in November," the state chairman added. "We're going to wage a tough campaign in Pennsylvania and all of our activities are going to be under one roof."

In another development, a Scranton aide said the governor has received about 5,000 letters

TONY CURTIS CROWS ABOUT BEING A PAPA

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Tony Curtis' prescription for staying young: Have children to brighten your middle years.

This might be the enthusiasm of a new father; his wife, Christine Kaufman, recently gave birth to their first child, a daughter.

"Look at her!" exclaimed Tony. "Have you ever seen such a beautiful baby? You know how most babies have wrinkled faces? Look at this one. Not a single wrinkle."

FUTURE PLANS
After his burst of paternal pride had simmered down, Tony philosophized about future plans for his family.

"I want to have three or four more children. I want to have them keep coming as I get older, and I'll spend all the time I can with them. I also will work out an arrangement whereby I can have my other two daughters (by Janet Leigh) for two or three months of the year, and maybe take them to Europe with me."

"What a great way to stay young! If you're with your children a great deal, play with them, learn with them, their youth is bound to rub off on you."

EARLY GRAVE
This may come as a surprise to those parents who say their children are pushing them into an early grave. But Tony may have a point. And, unlike some film stars, he does not appear to be overly concerned about encroaching age.

In fact, he is the only star I recall who not only figures his age accurately, but in halves.

"Right now I'm 38½," he remarked. "At that age most men have completed their families. I'm lucky to have a wife who is young enough (19) to go on having children until I'm an old man."

WIFE DELIGHTED
He didn't say whether Christine has been consulted on this matter. But he did report that the German lass is delighted with motherhood.

Tony Curtis is a fellow who does a lot of theorizing about the future, not only for his family, but for his career. He views the latter reality. Even though he appears to be one of Hollywood's busiest stars, he makes no predictions about how long he can last in the business.

Blame Driver In Fatal Blast

STROUDSBURG, Pa. (AP) — A Monroe County coroner's jury has found that the driver of a tractor-trailer contributed to the deaths, injuries and damages caused by the explosion of his trailer at nearby Marshalls Creek and has charged him with negligence.

The driver, Albert Koda, 51, of Port Carbon, Pa., was driving a tractor-trailer owned by American Cyanamid Co., of Pottsville, Pa. It was loaded with dynamite and an explosive chemical. Six persons were killed in the June 26 blast.

The jury Saturday charged Koda with negligence.

Koda was quoted by state police as saying the trailer exploded while he was away trying to get help after two rear tires blew out. Police investigators said Koda told them the tires were not burning when he left.

FALL FASHIONS FEATURE FURS, LEATHER LOOK

By LOUISE HICKMAN

PARIS (AP) — Soft bulk and fur facings characterized the two collections that got Paris fall and winter fashion showings started today.

Jacques Esterel drew from sheepskin flyers' jackets for big-shouldered coats with jutting collars and "leather" seamings. Ferreras' look was slimmer, and seemed inspired by light, quilted Chinese costumes. He used many frog and toggle closings.

NEW HAIR STYLES
Fashion editors and buyers saw a show of new coiffures from leading Paris hair stylists during a boat trip on the Seine Sunday night.

In today's showings, Esterel did flyers' coats in wide-wale beige corduroy, pink gabardine, white brocade, and pale blue suede. Devil-may-care mink collars jutted out from the evening numbers. Dresses underneath were slim, belted pullover sweater types.

Ferreras' look was essentially slim and tubular. Soft smock coats, shirred at the neck and shirt-cuffed sleeves were an exception. Dresses were belted sweater tunics in soft crepes, or skimpy stiff silk tubes, closest just under the bosom and flapping out in a tiny trumpet hem. Both houses showed long-jacket suits. Esterel's were straight over low, floppy pleats. Ferreras' were more fitted, worn with slim skirts.

Flat bands of fur, beaver or mink were used in both collections. Esterel put fur cuffs and ruffs on his long-line sweater dresses and suits. Slim coats and jackets at Ferreras were completely outlined in fur bands, a fur-and-fabric handling that looked like classic sheepskin treatment. Ferreras even got the look of rolled-back fur facing out of reversible teal and turquoise wool.

For evening, Ferreras showed slim back-wrapped dresses, high in front, low in back. He has some one-shoulder models and lots of flirty ruffled edges.

Rutgers Receives Water Study Grant

NEW BRUNSWICK, N.J. (AP) — A $20,000 grant from the Delaware River Basin Commission has been awarded to Rutgers University for a two-year study of the costs and benefits of water quality management, the university announced Monday.

What the project aims for, the university said, is developing techniques for measuring in dollars the value of various levels of water quality.

The Delaware River Basin Commission would use these techniques to allocate the costs of water quality management among users of the water.

State Opens Bookstore In Basement Of Capitol

By RICHARD L. GRAVES

HARRISBURG (AP) — State government's booming book business will formally open its new bargain basement outlet Wednesday.

The new store, done in a quaint Ye Olde Bookshoppe style is naturally enough, in the basement of the main Capitol building, just a doughnut's throw from the coffee counter and souvenir stand.

The shop already is doing some preliminary selling. Its attractive exterior, featuring a colonial bay window, is an invitation to come in and browse—a tradition in bookshops.

LIQUOR STORE DECOR
However, the interior is that same old state liquor store decor—a counter, cash register and displays that do not push one brand more than another. It used to be that the Capitol basement looked like . . . well, like a basement.

But the addition of the bookshop gives the downstairs more the appearance of a shopping arcade.

The lineup of establishments now, reading from south to north along the mall (it used to be called the hallway), includes the cafeteria, the coffee bar, the combination souvenir, cigar and magazine stand, and now the bookstore.

Some boosters of the Liquor Control Board have suggested privately that it would be a nice idea to have a state store on the mall. Prospects of such a thing happening are dim.

The book store will handle only state publications, but that is quite a lot to dispense—1,725 separate titles, of which some 950 are free.

MOST EXPENSIVE ITEM
The most expensive item you will be able to buy through the shop (for the man who has everything) will be "Decisions of the Courts of Pennsylvania in Workmen's Compensation Cases, Volume XXXI." ($15.50).

Another item for summer reading will be "The Papers of Henry Bouquet, Volume II." It costs $10. The two volumes together at that price would be the most expensive work available through the shop, but for some reason volume I is not listed in the directory of state publications. Perhaps it hasn't been issued yet.

The range of titles in the book shop is impressive. You can get anything from "The True Story of Smokey the Bear," a free comic book, to "Preliminary Report on a Regional Stratigraphic Study of Devonian Rocks of Pennsylvania," or "Subsurface Cambro-Ordovician Stratigraphy of Northwestern Pennsylvania and Bordering Regions."

AGENCIES REPRESENTED
The last item will cost you 30 cents, which is a bargain because it costs more than that to print the title.

Every state agency is represented by at least a couple of titles in the book shop. You can get "The Dope on Dope" via the Health Department or a rundown on "The Tutelo Spirit Adoption Ceremony," via the Historical and Museum Commission.

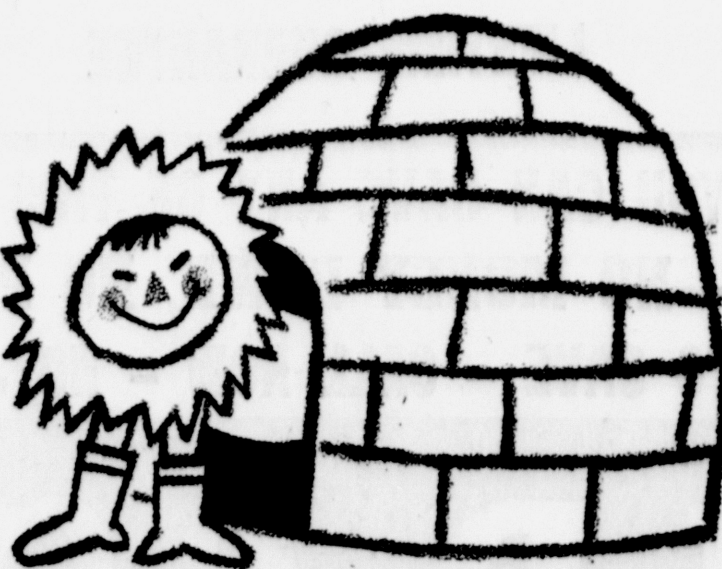

A title that has captured the imagination of the Capitol newsroom is this one provided free via the Public Welfare Department: "Somebody Needs You." Which begs the question: Who?

The hotter it gets outdoors . . . the more you'll appreciate the wonderful difference electric air conditioning can make!

Sure, it cools your home. That's certainly the most important reason you'll want it. But there are others. Electric air conditioning removes excess humidity, too. It keeps the air fresh and dry, even during the most humid weather. It filters out dust and dirt . . . keeps the house cleaner. And many people discover it relieves the discomfort of allergies.

You spend a lot of time in your home. Why not make it just as comfortable and pleasant in summer as it is all winter long? Step out of the house soon, to talk to your appliance dealer or air conditioning contractor!

the only home that doesn't need electric air conditioning!

A Bit Of History About Early Settlers

By B. F. M. MacPHERSON

THE WITHEROW FAMILY

The notes on the Witherow family of Frederick County, Maryland, and Carroll's Delight, Adams County, Pennsylvania, are continued at this time.

John (1) Witherow died August 21, 1794 and his will was probated in November of that same year. In this document he mentions his wife, Margaret (Barbour) Witherow — she is to have one-third of his estate. Three daughters, namely Elizabeth Witherow, Jane Witherow, and Margaret Witherow, are each given one hundred pounds. To Sarah Witherow, another daughter, he left only twenty-five dollars. What had this girl done to displease her father — to merit so small a sum?

The sons of John (1) and Margaret (Barbour) Witherow are mentioned in their father's will as follows:—

1. Son — John (2) Witherow — "... the plantation on which I now live."

2. Son — William (2) Witherow — "... the plantation inherited from my late brother, William Witherow. The said William Witherow to pay his brother, Samuel Witherow, one hundred pounds."

3. Son — David (2) Witherow — "... the sum of three hundred and seventy-five dollars and the plantation, called 'Vearchy,' lying near the South Mountain."

John (1) Witherow named as executors of his last will and testament his wife, Margaret (Barbour) Witherow, and his son, William Witherow.

The graves of John (1) Witherow, his brother, William (1) Witherow, are to be found in the family plot in Tom's Creek Presbyterian burial ground, located near Emmitsburg, Md. The inscriptions from the markers at their graves follow:

1. "Here lieth — the body — of — John Witherow — who departed this life — the 21st day of August — in the year of Our Lord — 1794 — In the 63rd year of his — age."

2. "Here — Lieth — the body — of William Witherow — who departed this life the 2nd — of November 1785 — in the 50th year of his — age."

Margaret Barbour, the wife of John (1) Witherow, survived her husband by some twenty-two years but is interred beside him in the family plot —

3. "In memory of — Margaret Witherow — Died September 2,

1816 — In her 67th year."

William (2) Witherow, the son of John (1) and Margaret (Barbour) Witherow, married Sarah Cooper. This marriage took place in 1805 and the Rev. Alexander Dobbin, the officiating minister, recorded it as follows: "Married, March 7th, 1805, in Maryland, William Witherow to Sarah Cooper."

William (2) Witherow and his wife, Sarah (Cooper) Witherow, were the parents of three children: —Margaret (3) Witherow died unmarried in 1881. She is probably buried in the family plot in Tom's Creek churchyard in a grave that is now unmarked.

2. John (3) Witherow — died unmarried in 1888 — aged 82 years.

John (3) Witherow is undoubtedly buried with his family in Tom's Creek in a grave that is now unmarked.

3. Jane (3) Witherow — twin sister of John (3) Witherow — married Captain John Horner. They were the parents of eight children.

John (2) Witherow, another son of John (1) and Margaret (Barbour) Witherow, married Jane Ross and they had six children. The marriage of John (2) Witherow was recorded in the "Adams Centinel" under the date given —

1. Wednesday, January 9, 1811 "Married, December 28th, 1810, by the Rev. David McConaughy, of this county, Mr. John Witherow, of Frederick County, Maryland, to Miss Jane Ross, the daughter of Mr. David Ross, of Strabane Township, Adams County, Pennsylvania."

Issue of John (2) and Jane (Ross) Witherow —

1. Jane Eleanor (3) Witherow — died unmarried — buried in the family plot at Tom's Creek.

4. "In memory of — Jane Eleanor Witherow — Died June 3rd, 1889 — Aged 76 years, 8 months and — 2 days."

2. Margaret Barbour (3) Witherow — married first Sheler Stewart and after his death, married for the second time, the Rev. Robert S. Grier. All are interred at Tom's Creek.

3. Elizabeth (3) Witherow — died unmarried and buried at Tom's Creek.

5. "In memory of — Elizabeth Witherow — Died July 18th, 1844 — In her 30th year."

4. John Ross (3) Witherow — married Mary Hoy.

5. T. Scott (3) Witherow — married Lavinia Jett.

Starvation to lose weight

has been practiced for ages, but there still are a lot of overweight people. Thus, says Today's Health, the magazine of the American Medical Association, starvation by itself cannot be an entire program for weight control.

There is probably no harm from abstinence for a day or two for the normal individual. The danger is that after a short time the desire for food subsides and the individual on the fast may be tempted to extend it too long for safety.

Starvation, in addition to causing a depletion of body fat and protein, can induce other hazardous effects not readily recognized. A form of gouty arthritis, low blood pressure and anemia have been reported in some individuals after relatively short periods of fasting. And there are persons with certain diseases who should never attempt fasting.

A more reasonable approach to weight reduction is a modified diet of foods high in nutrients but low enough in calories to cause a loss of pounds, coupled with suitable exercise.

A number of physicians have incorporated periods of short-term starvation into their over-all program of weight reduction, and, as a part of a medically supervised regimen, it sometimes can be used successfully.

The stress is on medical supervision. Starvation, even for short periods, should not be attempted without your doctor's guidance. If the doctor should select fasting as a part of your weight reduction program, he will make certain that you are under careful medical supervision and surveillance during the period.

Three Presidents have endorsed for citizen-reading a new edition of "Challenge to Americans," a free booklet just issued by the Advertising Council as a public service project in the national interest.

The Council, a nonprofit organization supported by American business and the advertising industry, conducts 15 to 20 major public service campaigns each year with the cooperation of advertisers, newspapers, magazines, radio and television stations and networks and outdoor and transit advertising companies who contribute vast amounts of advertising time or space to project the campaign messages to the public.

In 1962 the Council, in consultation with several private organizations and governmental departments, produced and distributed the first booklet explaining to citizens in simple terms the significance and meaning of five principal challenges to the future security and world prestige of the United States. In this "Challenge" booklet the individual was given suggestions as to what he could do about any one or all of them.

In fact, it was designed to help citizens decide what actions they should take to strengthen the national welfare... in answer to President Kennedy's own challenge: "... Ask what you can do for your country."

President Kennedy and former President Eisenhower both urged Americans to read the booklet. More than half a million copies have been distributed since then, mostly on request from individuals and teachers using them for their classes. These Presidential endorsements remain in the revised edition of "Challenge to Americans." And President Lyndon B. Johnson's own endorsement now appears in the foreword also.

The most timely revision of the 28-page illustrated booklet appears in the section dealing with "The Challenge of Our Own Permanent Revolution." This ties in directly with the new federal legislation on civil rights passed by Congress and signed by the President. "Let us see that the law of the land is honored and obeyed. Let us respect the dignity and worth of each individual."

The "Challenge" booklet is available free of charge to anyone requesting it... in quantities up to 10. Larger quantities are available at cost: 11 to 5,000 at 5 cents each; 5,001 to 100,000 at 4.5 cents each; and 100,001 and over at 4 cents each.

Requests should be sent to The Advertising Council at 25 W. 45th St., New York, New York 10036.

State Educator To Meet With Johnson

HARRISBURG (AP) — Dr. George W. Hoffman, acting state superintendent of public instruction, plans to be among a group of education officials from throughout the country who will meet in Washington, D.C., Thursday with President Johnson.

Hoffman received a telegram from the President Monday which read in part: "As the fall term approaches, we share a common concern to promote the well being of our schools. Will you meet with me at the White House July 30...?"

The State Department of Public Instruction said the specific subjects to be discussed at the conference were not yet known.

Dried Fruits Can Be Stored For Year In Cool, Dark Place

MRS. HELEN D. TUNISON Extension Home Economist

After you've canned, frozen, eaten nectarines and apricots and you find there's still some left — try drying these fruits.

According to food specialists in the U. S. Department of Agriculture, dried fruits will keep a year or so when stored in a cool, dry, dark place.

Here's how to dry these fruits — in your own oven!

Select about six pounds fresh, ripe, firm fruit. Wash and drain. Peel if you wish, then cut in halves and remove pits.

To prevent discoloration, soak fruit 15 minutes in a solution of 3-2½ tablespoons sodium sulfite to 1 gallon of water. A druggist can supply sodium sulfite. Two other, but less effective, treatments are: (1) To dip fruit in a salt-water bath of four to six tablespoons salt to one gallon of water for about 10 minutes, or (2) pre-cook fruit in steam or boiling water until tender but firm.

ARRANGE ON TRAYS

Arrange fruit on trays and place in 150 degree F. oven with the bottom tray three inches from the oven floor. Do not use top unit in electric oven. Prop open the door of an electric over one-half inch; a gas oven door, eight inches. (This helps control heat and lets out moist air.)

Alternate trays every one or two hours.

Fruit is dry when pliable and leathery, usually about six hours or longer. Pieces around the edges of the tray will dry first. Remove these as soon as they are dry.

Cool and package at once. Pack dried fruit in glass jars, plastic, metal or heavily waxed cardboard frozen food containers. Use a tight fitting lid.

Plastic bags that can be heat-sealed may also be used. They should then be placed in a rigid container to prevent tearing. In Custer County, Montana, the consumer has been heard. And there's a new merchandising improvement program along Main Street as a result.

It all began when members of several homemakers groups started complaining about local business practices. It ended with 84 of these club women presenting their problems to a panel of 10 businessmen.

The ladies asked that grocery stores take better care of locally produced food products, especially eggs. They expressed concern about the servicing of appliances, the shortage of harvesting machinery parts.

They explained to clothing store managers that some of the women "carried a little weight" and needed roomier clothes in larger sizes. Too much emphasis, they said, was being placed on skin-tight jeans for teens.

And so it went. The problems were much the same as those the women had complained about in their home demonstration clubs and discussed with extension leaders. But now they weren't merely complaining to each other, they were letting the merchants know how they felt and what they wanted.

Businessmen took their problems to heart.

Almost immediately, they began stocking more practical items and better quality merchandise, and a store that doesn't carry a particular item now sends the customer to a store that does.

Differences between a top-of-the-line automatic washer and a minimum model may not be so great as you would expect.

Extra features added to a top model automatic washer are the major difference between it and a minimum model. Washability is the same throughout a manufacturer's line, and method of agitation is the same for his models.

Top models are completely automatic. When you push a button, built-in decisions are made by the washer. Extra features add to the cost of a washer and may also add to the need for service. The more automatic a machine becomes, the greater

Urge Dem Plank On Right To Work Laws

HARRISBURG (AP) — Pennsylvanians for Right to Work, Inc., is urging state Democratic leaders to support a plank in the national party platform favoring the continued practice of allowing each state to decide whether or not it wants a right to work law.

"The Taft-Hartley Act authorizes the states to deal with the issue of voluntary versus compulsory unionism," James Scott II, president of the State Right to Work group, said Monday in a letter to Democratic State Chairman Otis B. Morse.

"We urge that Pennsylvania's representatives on the Democratic Platform Committee and delegates to the National Democratic Convention stand firmly for a plank in the party platform for protection..." of that authorization.

the chance for mechanical failure.

Middle model washers offer the same basic washability as minimum models. They have some added convenient features, but are not so completely push-button as top models. Most automatic washers sold are middle-of-the-line models.

Minimum models may have only one wash cycle. Once started, the cycle automatically runs its course. If you wish, you can interrupt the cycle and reset controls by hand.

Middle models offer at least two cycles — a regular or normal cycle and a slow or gentle cycle for wash-and-wear or delicate fabrics. Some middle models have a soak cycle. Top models may have five to 10 programmed selections including regular, wash-and-wear, washable woollens, rinse and spin only, and prewash.

Use This Check List For Best Air Conditioning

The air conditioning season is upon us.

Perhaps you are ready to buy an air conditioned house or add air conditioning to your present one.

Either way, advises the American Gas Association, you should check and compare the various types of systems now offered very carefully. Better still, get an expert's opinion. Your local gas company will be happy to advise you on all phases of gas heating and air conditioning.

The reputation of your contractor, builder, architect or fuel supplier and the quality of the equipment they use are key factors in assuring a satisfactory job.

INVESTMENT IN COMFORT

A well-designed, properly-installed air conditioning system is an investment in comfort, health and convenience. It will help increase the resale value of your home as much, or more, than the cost of the system.

To help you select the type of equipment best able to provide maximum comfort tailored to your family's needs, the American Gas Association offers the following check list:

1. Does the system provide properly-sized cooling?
- When you get down to buying, make sure your air conditioning contractor actually looks through your house and figures the cooling load for you. It's better to slightly under-size your cooling equipment than to have it too large. But for the most comfort and most economical operation, you'll want it just right.
2. Does the system provide adequate heating?
- If yours is a combined heating-cooling system, you'll want to be sure of enough heat when a cold spell hits you next winter. And don't forget to have extra capacity available, if you plan a finished room in the basement or an addition upstairs. However, too much unused capacity can be bad for heating, too.
3. Does the system provide for adequate moisture removal?
- Modern air conditioning equipment is designed to remove a proportion of moisture from the air as it provides cooling in warm weather. Your contractor will be familiar with the needs of your climate and can advise you on the system arrangement that gives the best results.
4. Does the system provide for adequate moisture control in winter?
- In dry cold climates, this will call for a humidifier as part of the heating system to add moisture to the air. In mild damp climates, cooking and other household sources may cause excess dampness unless a fresh air intake is provided in the system to bring in fresh outdoor air. This is particularly true in tightly-constructed homes.
5. Does the system provide for proper movement and distribution of the air?
- If you are adding cooling to an existing furnace installation, you will want the fan speed and capacity checked. Cooling depends even more than heating on continuous air circulation to give the feeling of comfort. You'll also want to make sure that the duct sizes are adequate to get the proper amount of conditioned air to all rooms.
- CLEANING OF AIR
6. Does the system provide for cleaning of air?
- This is particularly important to sufferers of hay fever or dust allergies. It's important, too, in saving on house cleaning and redecorating expenses. An air filter should be provided which is easily accessible for cleaning or replacement.
7. Does the system provide for convenient service?
- You'll probably not have to call about service for some time. However, it is always well to have the installation planned

NEW GAS AIR CONDITIONING METHODS USED

If central air conditioning is the home improvement you want most for your family this summer, the time to contact your dealer or gas company is right now!

New methods of year-round home air conditioning use gas for both heating and cooling are now on the market. They include numerous advancements in design and performance to provide compactness, ease of installation and lower operating costs.

Forced warm air systems using gas furnaces are particularly adaptable to addition of central cooling, and manufacturers have conducted extensive dealer training programs in this field. Water chilling units are made for use with hot water heat systems.

Gas is figuring in an increasingly wide variety of all-year air conditioning equipment. An all-gas absorption-type unit both heats and cools and, in its latest models, combines increased cooling capacity with smaller size.

Gas furnaces also are being teamed with power cooling systems, and among the newest developments is use of a gas engine in a soundproof cabinet outside the house to activate the cooling operation.

There are many aspects of a central air conditioning job that can be handled even while the heating system is in full use. Such scheduling will be imperative in view of increased demand, states the American Gas Association, despite the fact that many plumbing and heating dealers have been expanding their staffs to meet this new need.

BASIC TYPES

To help you understand the basic types of gas central air conditioning equipment, the American Gas Association offers the following brief description of each:

1. Packaged combination heating-cooling: This is a compact arrangement of all heating and cooling features in one neat housing. Included are condensing section, evaporator, fan or water pump, burner and automatic controls. It is usually called a year-round system because it provides cooling in summer and heating in winter. The changeover from heating to cooling is completely automatic.
- Installation can be made in the basement or utility room or wherever convenient or hook-up with the duct-work or piping system.
2. Matched packages of heating and cooling: Here the heating and cooling sections are divided into separate units, designed so that one can be added to the other. Usually the heating section is the basic unit and includes the fan or water pump and the main automatic control system, as well as the furnace, or boiler.
- The cooling section contains the condensing section and evaporator. When added to the heating section, the combined unit functions much like the packaged heating-cooling unit described above.
3. Heating with add-on package cooling: Many homes have excellent heating systems that were installed without special provision for adding cooling later. To meet this need, cooling systems have been designed for addition to existing heating plants. Most add-on cooling units take advantage of the fan or water pump and the basic controls already on the heating unit and use it for the cooling operation as well. Usually, however, the fan output must be increased. With cooling added, the combined system functions in much the same manner as the two systems already mentioned.
4. Heating-cooling systems with remotely located condensing section: In this arrangement, the major mechanical part of the refrigeration unit is located away from the heating plant. The condensing section can be mounted out-of-doors, in the garage, or any similar location. It is connected to the evaporator by tubing through which the refrigerant flows.
- The evaporator (cold section) is mounted in the ductwork where it can chill the air. The system provides heating and cooling in much the same manner as the previously described systems.

GAS SYSTEM HEATS, COOLS FOR COMFORT

If your family holiday was spoiled last year because of inadequate heat, due to an old furnace or unreliable fuel deliveries, you won't want to take another chance this year.

A new forced-air central gas heating-cooling system is like giving your family a tropical holiday during winter's freezing cold, or an invigorating seashore excursion to escape summer's sizzling heat. Both are sure ways to safeguard good health and cheery dispositions for busy adults and frisky youngsters.

A gas heating-cooling system will provide your family with resort comfort throughout the year. You can select the climate you want, regardless of outside weather, with a flick of a thermostat.

UNINTERRUPTED SERVICE

And, says the American Gas Association, you never have to worry about interrupted service with gas. It is the only fuel delivered into your home by protected underground pipes.

In addition to being the most dependable heating fuel, gas is also the most economical and efficient. Because there are no moving parts in the cooling and heating cycles, you can expect exceptionally long trouble-free service from a gas unit.

Compact models which heat in winter and cool in summer, can be installed in both new and older-type homes almost anywhere the home owners prefer. It is not at all unusual to find gas systems located in closets in the kitchen, hallway or utility room as well as in the basement, under a stairway or even in the attic. Some are also installed in an attached garage.

COST-FREE SURVEY

Your gas company or gas appliance dealer will be glad to discuss your heating needs and make a cost-free survey of your home. Conversion to gas heat is an expensive luxury the whole family will enjoy. And you won't be without heat during the installation procedure.

So why not give your family the cozy warmth of Acapulco this Christmas. And when summer rolls around you can enjoy the refreshing coolness of northern lakes — all without ever leaving home. A flick of a switch on a modern gas heating-cooling unit will provide ideal temperature inside the home every season of the year.

Extremely high heating bills switched the McCarthys from electric heating to Gas

"Monthly electric bills as high as $73.37, $70.60 and $69.04* were the main reason for our switching from electric to gas heat," said Mr. Patrick McCarthy of Irwin.

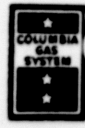

Before converting to gas, the McCarthys' Gold Medallion All Electric Home had cold floors and walls in the winter... the bathroom was constantly cold and the kitchen floor was cold. Even with the thermostat turned up as high as it would go, the bedrooms were extremely cold.

With gas heat the McCarthys are now dollars ahead... living in a comfortable home... living modern for less with gas because gas heats for so much less than electricity.

Woman, 106, Remembers Burning Of Chambersburg By Confederates In 1864

(Editor's Note: Mrs. Emma Thompson of Waynesboro, a spry 106, can recall in vividly descriptive terms the Confederate torch applied to Chambersburg, now holding a combination centennial observance and a celebration of the 200th year of the community's founding. Here is Mrs. Thompson's story.)

By JESS GARBNER
Waynesboro Record Herald
WAYNESBORO, Pa. (AP)—A 106-year-old Waynesboro woman is the only known living eyewitness to the Confederates' burning of Chambersburg 100 years ago—on July 30, 1864.

Mrs. Emma Thompson—then Emma Croft—was a six-year-old girl living on Chambersburg North Main Street when the courthouse bell and warning cannon sounded to warn townspeople of the Rebels' approach.

She recalled the excitement of the day in a recent interview with Chambersburg Mayor John McD. Sharpe Jr., chairman of the centennial of the century-ago firing.

MAYOR CALLS

Mayor Sharpe called on Mrs. Thompson to tell her of her home town's plans to remember the event, noting Chambersburg is also observing the 200th anniversary of its plating.

They exchanged historical notes in a half-hour interview and the mayor hurriedly called for pencil and paper to record her recollections.

"My sister and I were sitting on a little hill and two soldiers rode up. One had a white rag tied to his gun and when we started to cry he said 'We won't hurt you, please tell us how to get out of Chambersburg.'"

"TOO SMALL"

She recalled with a chuckle. "We were too small to know directions and couldn't tell them where to go. I've often wondered if they got out all right."

"My sister's name was Susan, she's dead now, well, everyone's dead but me," she mused. Getting back to the day, she told Mayor Sharpe how she and her sister had disobeyed her father. When Gen. John McCausland's troops entered the town, their father sent them to the cellar with instructions to stay there.

They left because "it was too cold down there."

COURTHOUSE IN FLAMES

Their part of Chambersburg was spared but she remembers seeing the courthouse in flames and other homes in the center of town in various stages of destruction. The two frightened girls ran in the opposite direction, raced across a log footbridge spanning the Conococheague Creek and had sat down to rest when they were encountered by the two lost rebels.

Mayor Sharpe asked if she remembers his namesake grandfather, but she didn't. The elder John McD. Sharpe had been held hostage during the time the Rebels had demanded $200,000 ransom to spare the town.

FATHER A PRISONER

"My father was a prisoner of the Confederates once," Mrs. Thompson recalled in turn.

Her father was a saddler with a shop on West Market Street, now Lincolnway West, and when the Confederates went to Gettysburg in 1863 he was captured and taken along to mend harness.

"They didn't hurt him, but when he came back several days later he was all lousy and had to be cleaned up," she laughed. Mayor Sharpe expressed regrets that Mrs. Thompson will be unable to revisit Chambersburg during the centennial.

107 IN OCTOBER

Mrs. Thompson, who will be 107 next Oct. 5, rarely leaves her second-floor downtown apartment where she lives with a widowed daughter, Mrs. Ruth Cioper.

She has enjoyed generally good health all her life. For that, she received the Pennsylvania Medical Society's 100-year plaque five years late, when she was 105.

She hadn't needed a physician for 20 years and no practicing physician had realized the honor was due her.

Mother, Daughter Have 14 Children

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. Harry W. Weber went home from St. Joseph's Hospital Monday with her 14th child, Jacqueline.

Mrs. Weber's mother, Mrs. Parker A. Talley, also had 14 children. All of them were born at St. Joseph's, too.

"One difference, though," Mrs. Weber, 36, said. "I've had mine faster. We both had our first child when we were 20, and she was 43 when she had her 14th."

A Lovelier You

By MARY SUE MILLER
HOW TO HANDLE THE BOSS.
As June grads are discovering, a job can be stimulating or pure drudgery. And the work is not the determining factor, not unless it is altogether monotonous.

Rather the boss sets the tone. When an employer is hypercritical, thoughtless or curt, a girl's workday is so miserable that she considers quitting. Of course she is free to do so. But if she likes the firm and the opportunities offered, she might try a bit of career-womanly diplomacy.

Let's see how it could turn out in relation to pet grievances that girls hold against boorish bosses: Grievance: Being harsh about mistakes, yet blind to good work. To handle: Quietly offer to rectify the trouble, then subtly point out successes; i.e. "I'll fix this report right away. I'm so glad there were no errors in yesterday's accounts."

Grievance: Poor organization, so that mornings are slow and the tired end of the day is a pressure cooker of inefficiency. To handle: Tactfully suggest ways to smooth schedules. Predicate ideas on saving time and money, and you can't miss!

Grievance: Curt, hazy instructions. To handle: Speak low and ask for clarification. Nothing "learns" bosses like the exemplary manners of employees.

Naturally, depending on the job, there are more complaints. But note those words—subtle, tactful, quiet. They're the aces that win the game.

BOYLE'S Grab Bag

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Some years ago many business firms started the custom of putting up suggestion boxes.

The thought was that the company would benefit from practical tips from its employees—and that the morale of employees would benefit, too, from the flattering knowledge that management was humbly seeking their help.

"After all, we're a team," the announcement on the bulletin board usually read, "and a team wins with the ideas of all its players."

THOUSANDS ANSWER
So the bright new suggestion boxes, born of high hopes, bloomed in thousands of offices throughout the land.

Over the years in many offices a certain realistic cynicism replaced the earlier enthusiastic idealism.

The boxes began to contain fewer and fewer worthwhile suggestions. They became more and more reservoirs of complaints, office gossip, and wagist remarks.

Many a boss quit opening the suggestion box after discovering the most popular suggestion was, "Why don't you resign, Big Daddy? What this outfit needs is fresh brains at the top."

Today many a company head has washed his hands of the problem of the suggestion box. He often leaves it to be opened by a junior executive in the personnel department.

And that young man, if he bothers to read the missives at all, is likely to find the box contains such familiar material:

Twelve wads of chewing gum left there surreptitiously by the office boy.

REDS WIN AS HUTCH GOES TO HOSPITAL

By DAVE O'HARA
Associated Press Sports Writer
MILWAUKEE (AP) — Cincinnati Manager Fred Hutchinson has countless thousands pulling for him in his fight with cancer, but there are few more loyal, or solemn, rooters than his Reds in their daily battle for the National League pennant.

The third-place Reds flew to Milwaukee with Coach Dick Sisler Monday after Hutchinson entered Cincinnati's Christ Hospital for "tests" expected to take several days.

The Reds were reluctant to talk about their manager's illness as they opened a three-game series with an 11-2 victory over the Milwaukee Braves.

Sisler said that the 44-year-old Hutchinson complained of back pains and decided to check into the hospital when he awakened after a Sunday doubleheader with Pittsburgh.

Hutchinson, a former major league pitcher, was stricken with cancer in the upper chest several months ago. The illness was disclosed when he checked into the Tumor Institute in Swedish Hospital at Seattle, Wash., last January.

After a series of treatments, which appeared to be successful, Hutch was permitted to join the Reds for the start of spring training in Florida. He said at the time he had been advised to take things easier than usual.

His admittance to the hospital in Cincinnati marked the third time that he has left the club. Despite his illness, Hutch has carried a full work load except for additional rest periods. Only last week he insisted his biggest worry was winning the pennant.

The POWER of FAITH

By WOODI ISHMAEL

"... Go ye into all the world and preach the gospel to every creature."

From the time those words were uttered by Jesus until now, dedicated men have been following His command, despite language barriers. Today the Holy Scriptures have been translated in whole or part into 1216 languages.

This monumental accomplishment is being carried even farther forward today by at least 3000 translators whose faith has led them to every part of the world to learn languages and dialects. Often under the direst circumstances they work on translations and revisions for peoples in the most isolated areas of the world. Bible societies throughout the world print and distribute these Bibles. Today the Holy Words appear in the tongues of 97 percent of the world's population.

MISS BLATT IS ANXIOUS TO CAMPAIGN

HARRISBURG (AP) — Genevieve Blatt, virtually assured of the Democratic nomination to the Senate after three months of primary balloting counting, is anxious to start planning her general election campaign.

The Pennsylvania Supreme Court, sustaining a lower court decision, ruled Monday that machine ballots cast in blank space under the name of one of her opponents may not be counted.

The decision gave Miss Blatt, state secretary of internal affairs, a 500-vote margin of victory over Justice Michael A. Musmanno of the State Supreme Court. The third candidate in the race was never in the running.

Many concede "Most people in the party are ready to concede I won the nomination," Miss Blatt said after learning of the court decision. "We've been talking plans, but we haven't actually laid any. I'm anxious to get on with it."

Noting reports that Musmanno was considering appealing the case to the U.S. Supreme Court, Miss Blatt added: "I personally don't see any grounds that this is appealable to the Supreme Court of the United States. Certainly if he wants to take it there, we'll answer it and I'm sure we'll win just as we did here."

Musmanno was not immediately available for comment on the state court decision, which he had no part in.

IN THIRD TERM
Miss Blatt, 50, is serving her third four-year term as internal affairs secretary. When originally elected to the post in 1954, she became the first woman in Pennsylvania history to hold a statewide office.

This marks the second close election she has been involved in since 1962 when she overcame the landslide of Republican Gov. William W. Scranton to win re-election to the internal affairs post.

Miss Blatt stopped short of requesting a concession from Musmanno, who had the endorsement of the state Democratic organization.

Announce PMA, FIC Merger On August 1

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association (PMA) has announced it will merge August 1 with Fire Insurance Companies (FIC).

The combined corporation will be known as the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association Insurance Company, PMA president James F. Malone announced Monday.

The merged companies will have assets of over $65 million. Gov. Scranton and Insurance Commissioner Audrey R. Kelly approved the consolidation following earlier approval by PMA stockholders.

TOKYO (AP) — U.S. Ambassador Edwin Reischauer and Foreign Minister Eisenshima met today and agreed on Aug. 31 for the next meeting of the U.S.-Japan Security Consultative Committee, an embassy spokesman said.

DEMOCRATS IN SOUTH AVOID BACKING LBJ

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Many Southern Democratic senators are walking a tight political rope in their efforts to maintain their party regularity without tying themselves to President Johnson's campaign.

Sen. Herman E. Talmadge, D-Ga., is the latest to join the ranks of those who may preserve the kind of "golden silence" practiced by Sen. Harry F. Byrd, D-Va., in the 1960 campaign when former vice president Richard M. Nixon carried Virginia. Byrd has given no indication of what he plans to do this year.

Talmadge said in a terse statement Monday that he has always been a Democrat and expects to remain one.

"HAVE NO PLANS"

He added: "I have not been requested to make any speeches for the party and have no plans to do so."

"I will continue to vote on each and every measure (in the Senate) in accordance with my judgment in the best interests of my country and my state."

Talmadge is one of 21 Southern Democrats who voted against the Civil Rights Act, Johnson signed July 2. Among the 21 were six senators whose seats are at stake this year. These include Virginia's Byrd, and Sens. Robert C. Byrd of West Virginia, Albert Gore of Tennessee, Sessard L. Holland of Florida, John Stennis of Mississippi and Herbert S. Walters of Tennessee.

SENATOR ELLENDER

Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., who is not running this year, said he is sticking to his intention not to attend the Democratic convention at Atlantic City, N.J., next month. Ellender said that when his name was listed tentatively as a Louisiana delegate, he ordered it scratched.

Sen. John L. McClellan, D-Ark., who is not up for election, said in a separate interview he hasn't been asked to speak for the national ticket and doesn't expect to receive any such request.

In the estimate of many politicians, Johnson's popularity in the South has slumped materially since he put on pressure for passage of the civil rights bill and the Republicans named as their presidential nominee Sen. Barry Goldwater, who voted against the measure.

Seaman, 21, Is Held In Shotgun Robbery

HONOLULU (AP)—An Alabama merchant seaman, accused of the 1963 shotgun robbery of the Havertown Savings and Loan Association, Upper Darby, Pa., has agreed to return to Pennsylvania to stand trial.

William L. Williamson consented Monday in federal court to return for trial. He will be accompanied to Pennsylvania by a member of the U. S. marshal's office within 10 days.

The 21-year-old seaman surrendered to the FBI in Honolulu on June 19 and has been confined to jail, unable to post $10,000 bail.

XENIA, Ohio (AP)—James A. Chew, 82, Ohio newspaper publisher, died Sunday after a lengthy illness. His newspaper chain included the Xenia Daily Gazette, Middletown Journal, Piqua Daily Call and Franklin Chronicle.

REPORT 4 MORE YANKS KILLED IN S. VIET NAM

By PETER ARNETT

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—Four U.S. servicemen were reported killed in South Viet Nam today as the U.S. government made plans for a big boost in its military manpower in the Communist-threatened nation.

Up to 3,000 more American military advisers and training personnel may be sent to swell the U.S. force of about 16,250 already in the country. No extension of the Americans' limited combat role was in prospect, however.

ADMIT ONE DEAD

The four American dead were reported by reliable sources who could not give the circumstances. U.S. military spokesmen for the time being would confirm the death of only one American.

Four more dead would bring the total Americans killed in action against the Communists in Hanoi (the capital of North Viet Nam), Khanh's government said.

The South Vietnamese government announced the new

Search For Woman, 70, Lost In Woods

ALLENTOWN, Pa. (AP)—State police, assisted by bloodhounds, joined 200 volunteers today as the search for a 70-year-old Schuylkill County woman resumed.

Anna Coplousky of St. Clair, Pa., entered the woods with two friends Monday on a berry-picking expedition. When she failed to meet her friends at the appointed time and place, they returned home and reported her missing.

State police from the Mahanoy City station were aided by a Civil Air Patrol plane in Monday's fruitless search.

buildup Monday after a conference between Premier Nguyen Khanh and U.S. Ambassador Maxwell D. Taylor.

A U.S. spokesman said the arrival of personnel would be gradual, and the number now planned might be changed as circumstances developed.

"This increase in U.S. aid as well as other aid from friendly countries granted at the request of the Vietnamese government should be construed as a warning to the Communists in Hanoi (the capital of North Viet Nam)," Khanh's government said.

The communique said U.S. aid would be increased in the following fields:

MORE ADVISERS

—More military advisers for Vietnamese armed forces, especially at battalion level and in the Navy and Air Force.

—More U.S. Special Forces guerrilla war experts to advise Vietnamese special forces more effectively and increase guards against Red infiltration from outside.

—More advisers or Vietnamese regional and militia forces.

—More civilian advisers, especially for economic development, administration, health, police, agriculture and social affairs.

—More troop-carrying helicopters, flare-dropping planes and personnel to keep them flying.

South Viet Nam has an army of 200,000 and a 200,000-man paramilitary force. The Viet Cong is believed to have about 80,000 fighters. Guerrilla experts estimate that it takes at least 10 soldiers to cope with one guerrilla.

The new commander of American forces in the Pacific, Adm. Ulysses S. Grant Sharp, told newsmen today he doubts events are leading to a general war in Asia and that he is optimistic about progress in South Viet Nam.

Sharp arrived in Saigon today to confer with Lt. Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Viet Nam, and "to see what we can do better and to see what more we can do."

U.S. forces in Viet Nam now include about 10,000 Army men, about 5,000 Air Force, about 750 Navy and about 500 Marines.

CASTRO WARNS CUBA TO REACT SHOT FOR SHOT

By DANIEL HARKER
SANTIAGO, Cuba (AP)—Fidel Castro launched a new attack at the United States Monday night, declaring that Cuba will "answer shot for shot" if "another man is murdered" by U.S. Marines at the Guantanamo naval base.

The Cuban prime minister held a 3½-hour news conference for 33 American newsmen visiting Cuba at his invitation and 40 other foreign newsmen who came to Santiago for the celebration of his 26th of July revolutionary movement.

REJECTS U.S. DENIAL

Castro again rejected the U.S. denial of his charge that U.S. Marines killed a Cuban sentry at the Guantanamo border two weeks ago.

"What is important is that we believe and know that this happened, and the Soviet Union also knows it," Castro said.

"If another of our men is murdered, we will not have another alternative but to answer shot for shot independently of what the American government believes or not."

"The Soviet Union knows if we are forced to take measures we would not be looking for war."

Castro made clear that he would not give up his ties with the Soviet Union to improve relations with the United States.

"The United States tries to maintain a cold war with us and at the same time wants to improve relations with the Soviet Union," he said.

WANTS SOVIET TIES

"That objective will not be accomplished. Cuba will not tolerate being separated from the Socialist bloc."

Castro dwelt at length, however, on the chance of improving relations with the United States. "We have no resentment against the American people," he said. "It would be stupidity not to be willing to discuss our differences."

"If there is willingness, a way will be found. We want to discuss, but are not in any hurry, and we are prepared not to have diplomatic and commercial relations with the United States for the next 20 years."

12,254 Persons Cut From Welfare Roll

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Public Welfare Department says 12,254 persons were cut from the public assistance rolls in June because of gains in employment for the most part.

The decrease, continuing a trend since March, brought the number of Pennsylvanians on public assistance down to 415,222.

Expenditures, however, increased by $605,239 to $22,606,440. The department said the increase was due to higher costs in purchased hospital care, resulting from more rapid processing of payment invoices.

POLICE BACK COL. E. PURDY

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The 51st annual convention of Pennsylvania Police Chiefs unanimously adopted a resolution congratulating Col. E. Wilson Purdy, Pennsylvania state police commissioner, for what it called the efficient manner in which he and the state police have handled situations arising from racial tension.

The resolution, passed Monday, referred to meetings sponsored by the state police to promote greater understanding among law enforcement officials on how to cope with problems generated by racial tension.

Purdy noted that more than 1,200 police administrators have attended the meetings. As a result, he said, police chiefs in Pennsylvania are prepared to understand the problem better than police officials in most other states.

"We cannot properly discharge our responsibilities unless we have hometown support," Purdy said.

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP)—Hermann Hagedorn, 82, famed poet-biographer and author of "The Roosevelt Family of Sagamore Hill," died Monday apparently of a heart attack.

STAMFORD, Conn. (AP)—Julia Emory, 84, a pioneer law-maker, died Sunday in a nursing home after a lengthy illness. Mrs. Emory represented Stamford in the Connecticut Legislature for six years beginning in 1924.
